U.S. Asks Action on Big Arms Inspection; Dulles Reports Asian Situation Better

Feels Pact Is Halting Aggression

To Testify Today On Foreign Aid

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today gave Democratic and Republican congressional leaders a "moderately optimistic" report on his just-completed trip to the Far East.

President Eisenhower sat in as Dulles made his report to 22 leaders of Congress at the White House.

"Our Marco Polo secretary made some jaunt," said Sen. Wiley (R.-Wis.) in reference to Dulles' 19-day journey to 10 Asian nations.

THE KEYNOTE sounded by several Congress members after today's session was that Dulles had painted a temperately optimitic picture of conditions in the Middle East and Far East.

Sen. Bridges (R.-N.H.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee in the Senate, said Dulles' report "was on the moderately optimistic side."

Bridges said the report "pointed up some of the serious aspects" of the situation, but that the emphasis was on "the improvement" Dulles regards as having come about.

HOUSE REPUBLICAN Leader Martin said:

"To me the report was mildly optimistic. It looked as if we had some improvement in the whole general picture.

"Of course, there are still some trouble spots. But on the whole things appear to be a little bit better than they have been."

Dulles was to testify later in the day (2:30 p. m., EST) before the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the foreign aid bill. The committee heard Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of NATO forces, at a closed session this morning.

CHAIRMAN Richards (D.-S. C.) served notice ahead of time he wants to know why some NATO countries are cutting their contribution to the joint defense effort. Speaking with newsmen about this, he named no countries.

Upon his return from the trip late yesterday, Dulles said in a statement at the airport he feels the Southeast Asia Treaty Or-

Democrats Contend Kefauver Win Repudiation of Ike Farm Program

Decline in Agriculture Income May Be Rough on GOP, Lehman Says Stevenson Still Best Qualified for Job

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Several Democrats contended today that Sen. Estes Kefauver's upset Minnesota primary victory was a "repudiation" by Republican voters of President Eisenhower's farm program.

A number of Republicans sharply rejected that suggestion, although some of them acknowledged they are concerned over the effect on voters of the long decline in farm income.

SENATORS of both parties saw the result as a big boost for Kefauver, their Tennessee colleague. Several Democrats renewed pledges of support for Adlai Stevenson, whom he defeated, while conceding Stevenson had suffered a big setback in his campaign to win the Democratic presidential nomination again.

Sen. Anderson (D.-N.M.), former secretary of agriculture who has backed major portions of the Eisenhower administration's farm program said in an interview:

"THE MINNESOTA vote, with thousands of Republicans entering the Democratic primary, indicates the Democrats will carry every state in the farm belt, regardless of who is the nominee."

Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.), who joined with Minnesota's Democratic Gov. Orville Freeman to support Stevenson, said Stevenson's "spirits are high and his determination unwavering," and he added:

"His supporters are equally unwavering."

IN CHICAGO, Stevenson called Kefauver's Minnesota showing a "first round" victory and he said he will "now work harder than ever" to win the presidential nomination.

Sen. Lehman (D.-N.Y.), saying he was "a little surprised at the great vote" by which Kefauver carried Minnesota, added: "I still believe Adlai Stevenson is the best qualified man for the Presidency, and I shall continue to support him as I have in the past."

SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER

Humphrey noted that both Stevenson and Kefauver advocated farm price supports at higher levels than the administration does and said the heavy vote in the Democratic primary was a "stunning repudiation of the Eisenhower-Benson farm fiasco." Ezra Taft Benson is secretary of agriculture.

TERMING Stevenson the candidate "most feared" by the Republicans, Humphrey said if Republicans didn't invade the Democratic primary to embarrass him, the only other possible conclusion is that "Republicans flocked to the Democratic banner because they are repudiating their own party."

Sen. Aiken of Vermont, chief Senate backer of the administration's flexible price support program, retorted that "the Minnesota vote indicated an upris-

Confidence For Nations Major Aim

Move Comes After Red Nuclear Test

London, March 22 (AP)—Seeking to replace years of talk about disarmament with concrete action, the United States wants 40,000 to 60,000 square miles of Russian and American territory opened to international arms inspection teams.

The U. S. proposal for a preliminary test of disarmament controls was made last night at a meeting of the five-power UN subcommittee on disarmament, which resumed sessions here this week.

THE PLAN is in line with U. S. efforts to build mutual confidence in disarmament between the two top military powers. It is aimed at paving the way to a comprehensive program of controlled arms reduction. Britain and France earlier this week submitted an arms control plan linked to a general disarmament pact.

Subcommittee delegates referred the American plan to their governments. It may not be taken up again here for a week.

The U. S. proposal came a few hours before officials here and in Washington disclosed that the Soviet Union has launched a new series of nuclear tests, there were no details as to what type tests were carried out, but presumably they were held in a deserted area of Siberia.

INFORMATION concerning the test explosions presumably was obtained through checks of radioactive material in the atmosphere. Western observatories in northern Japan recorded increased radioactivity in rain and snow which fell this week.

The British Foreign Office announced without elaboration: "The Soviet Union has recently embarked on some further nuclear tests."

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said in Washington the Russians had exploded a nuclear device "within the past few days." He said it was the fifth Soviet weapons test announced by the United States in the past eight months.

SOVIET demands for an immediate ban on nuclear weapons have long been a stumbling block in East-West disarmament negotiations.

The U. S. pilot plan for testing disarmament controls was presented by Harold Stassen, special assistant on disarmament to President Eisenhower.

It calls for the United States

2 Houses Vote Big GOP Tax Cut

Policies Must Be Had To Get Plates in 1957

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Compulsory automobile insurance and a 40-million-dollar tax cut were voted by the Legislature today.

The Senate, without a word of debate, gave final approval to the car insurance bill by a vote of 49-6.

BOTH HOUSES, in rapid succession, rammed through a GOP program measure to reduce state income taxes by 40 million this year. The Senate vote was 35-23, the Assembly vote 88-56. Democrats in both houses voted solidly against it.

Gov. Harriman is expected to sign the compulsory car insurance measure, which was passed by the Assembly, 123-24, last week.

This means that no car may be registered in the state next year without first being insured.

There are approximately 700,000 uninsured automobiles in the state.

THE SENATE also approved, 44-11, a substitute plan for compulsory insurance, but this was merely a gesture. There appeared no chance of getting Assembly approval.

Both measures sailed through without debate.

The six votes against the compulsory bill were cast by Republican senators. They were Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, George Manning of Rochester, Warren Anderson of Binghamton, Ernest I. Hatfield of Poughkeepsie and Searles G. Shultz of Skaneateles.

COMPULSORY automobile insurance long has been a controversial issue in the New York Legislature.

Two years ago, Thomas E. Dewey, then governor, made a determined drive to put it across. His bill passed the Assembly but was defeated in the Senate.

The compulsory bill approved today is almost identical with the 1954 one. It requires car owners to carry $10,000-$20,000 insurance or furnish proof of financial responsibility for an equal amount.

The substitute measure would impose a $30 annual surcharge on uninsured vehicles.

THE MONEY would go into a pool to pay claims against uninsured cars.

Lions' Show Is Patronized by 2,215 Wednesday

Crowds continued to pour into the state armory last night to view exhibits in the ninth annual Lions Industrial Exposition and Home Show—Kingston Area on Parade—with attendance records again exceeded for the second straight day.

A TOTAL of 2,215 tickets were sold last night for the Lions spectacular, Chairman Warren F. Smith reported. A number of people had already entered the exhibit area, however, before the ticket window was opened, so the actual number of visitors was in excess of 2,215.

The area "showcase" will be open to the public for three more nights—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—from 7 to 10:30 p. m.

CHAIRMAN Smith praised the local Board of Public Works for its splendid work in clearing snow from parking areas at the armory on North Manor avenue. Approaches and parking are free of snow, facilitating the handling of a large number of cars.

A shade under 4,000 persons have visited the Exposition and

Panel on Mental Health Open to Public April 17

A mental health panel open to the public will be presented Tuesday night, April 17, in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel, it was announced today by Mrs. Morton D. Zucker, chairman of the social studies committee of the local chapter of the American Association of University Women.

The purpose of the panel is to inform the public of the "great need" of mental health services in Ulster county, she said.

"We must all work together to develop a program that will meet the needs of the community. There is no doubt that we will be a better community if we have this service."

Dr. Edward F. Shea, chairman of the Ulster County Mental Health Committee, will serve as moderator for the panel.

Other panel speakers will be: Hans R. Huessy, M. D., M. S. (Diplomate in Psychiatry), director of the mental health programs in Saratoga, Washington and Warren counties. Dr. Huessy will discuss the various ways in which these programs were developed, how they are set up and how they function.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino who will discuss the need for mental health services in the community and why mental health is a community problem.

Eckert's Checks for $5,000 Will Pay Esopus Water Bonds

Release yesterday of the town of Esopus funds which had been "frozen" by the State of New York National Bank during the dispute as to whether Edward R. Eckert or Arnold L. Ellsworth was legally supervisor of the town, paved the way for payment of the $5,000 water bond issue which became due a week ago.

Notice was sent to the bank Wednesday following action of the town board Monday night, when the board rescinded the appointment of Arnold L. Ellsworth as supervisor, and Vincent G. Connelly, bank attorney, recommended the funds be made available over Eckert's signature.

Connelly said a letter had been received notifying the bank of the town board's action, with a copy of the resolution, and on receipt of that letter from the town clerk the funds were released.

Arrangements were being made today to meet the $5,000 water bond payment which had been held in abeyance because of the legal tangle, Connelly said.

Checks signed by Eckert to meet payrolls and welfare payments were also being honored by the bank.

Ellsworth informed The Freeman he intended to appeal from the decision of Justice William Deckelman as soon as the order dismissing a show cause order was filed. Justice Deckelman dismissed an application made by Ellsworth, under a show cause order, why he should not be declared supervisor of the town. In his memorandum Justice Deckelman directed an order be submitted dismissing the complaint.

Hogan Declares Racketeers Get Men in Office

New York, March 22 (AP)—Union leaders who Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan says are backed by labor racketeers have been declared victors in an important Teamsters Union election here.

John J. O'Rourke was named as president of the New York joint Council 16 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (IBT), which controls 125,000 truck drivers in the New York metropolitan area.

A COMMITTEE appointed by IBT President Dave Beck of Seattle ruled yesterday that O'Rourke was the winner in a disputed election over Martin T. Lacey, incumbent in the $25,000—year council presidency.

The committee ruled that 16 deciding votes—all in favor of O'Rourke and his running mates and challenged by Lacey—were valid and should be counted. This decision gave O'Rourke control of the presidency and all but one of the six other council posts.

Lacey's attorney, Godfrey P. Schmidt, announced he will seek an injunction in Federal Court to block O'Rourke from taking over.

O'Rourke is said by authorities to be an ally of James Hoffa of

Social Security Changes Turned Down by Folsom

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration turned thumbs down today on House-passed proposals to provide social security retirement benefits for women at age 62 and payments to the totally disabled starting at age 50.

Secretary of welfare Folsom also rejected the accompanying increase in the social security tax from 2 to 2½ per cent immediately to help finance the broadened benefits.

HE SAID THIS would mean a tax increase of $1,700,000,000 over the first full year.

"The old-age and survivors insurance (OASI) system is in excellent condition," Folsom said in

Kingston Would Pay $83,200 More if Postal Rates Increase

New York, March 21 (Special)—To what extent will the proposed bill to increase postal rates, now before Congress, affect people in Kingston, if approved?

In round figures, local residents and business concerns would have to spend an additional $83,200 a year.

The measure, proposed by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and presented to Congress by President Eisenhower, seeks to cope to some extent with the continuing annual deficit of the Post Office Department by upping mail rates more than $406 million a year. About $311 million of this would be increases in first class mail charges.

First class rates would rise to four cents an ounce from the present three cents. Air mail would also go up one cent, to seven cents. There would be an increase of 30 per cent, divided over two years, in rates for books, magazines, newspapers and other second class mail. Third class rates would go up 29 per cent. The overall average rise would be 17 per cent.

In Kingston, in the past fiscal year, $493,800 was spent for stamps and other postal services, according to the Post Office Department's official figures.

This would increase to $577,-

Carvel Case Is Still Pending

Zoning Board Lacking Power on Cattle Yard

Heavy opposition to continued operation of the Basch cattle yard at Newkirk avenue and Maple street developed at a zoning board hearing last night in the city court room, city hall, and the board adjourned further hearing until its next meeting in April.

Further hearing is also slated for the April meeting on the application of the Carvel Corp., for permission to build an ice cream store on the Monroe T. Southard property, Albany and Foxhall avenues, after it was determined that the "non-conforming" status of the property is the main legal point to be settled.

SEVERAL fourth ward residents in the area of the cattle yard complained that a serious condition prevails there, and the neighborhood is menaced with rats, unsavory odors and the disturbing noises of cattle.

Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the board, said representatives of the health board, the owner of the cattle yard, and all persons interested will be asked to attend the next meeting.

A COMPLAINT was presented through the Common Council several months ago, but failed in proper presentation to the zoning board for earlier action. Fourth Ward Alderman Frank J. Zakseski, recently renewed effort to air the complaints.

It was noted that the cattle yard had been in operation before enactment of the zoning

BPW Would Take Deeds to Develop Two City Areas

The Board of Public Works yesterday voted in favor of accepting deeds for developments in Kingston Park and part of Westbrook Place.

It was also decided to readvertise for bids on curbing, pavement and sidewalks in Amsterdam avenue and Lipton street because of an error in previous estimates.

THE SECTION of Westbrook Place approved for development connects with the Frank Walter sub-division in the 12th ward. Lipton street and Amsterdam avenue are in the Kingston Park development.

'Marty' Voted Four Academy Oscars; Borgnine, Magnani Named Best Stars

Hollywood, March 22 (AP)—"Marty," the movie originally made as a tax loss to offset big grosses of two Burt Lancaster westerns, emerged today as the Oscar-winning picture.

It also won the top male acting academy award last night for Ernest Borgnine, an actor who only earned $2,300 in his profession three years ago. He is worth at least $150,000 a picture with Oscar behind him.

Anna Magnani, the fiery Italian, now in Rome, won the top feminine Oscar for her performance in "The Rose Tattoo."

Roused from sleep to be given the news, she shouted: "It's great . . . I feel just as if I'd built the Colosseum—it's all an earthquake inside."

The supporting actor award went to Jack Lemmon, the comic Ensign Pulver of "Mister Roberts." Jo Van Fleet, the madam mother of James Dean in "East of Eden," was named the best supporting actress.

Besides earning best picture and best actor awards, "Marty" also won an Oscar for the best screen play for playwright Paddy Chayefsky. He wrote the tender story of a lonely butcher first as a television play.

Delbert Mann, who directed "Marty" on TV and then for his movie debut, won the best direction award.

"Marty" was produced by the team of Harold Hecht and screen star Burt Lancaster.

Lancaster gave much of the credit for "Marty's" success to newspaper advertising. He told a reporter that the film cost only $343,000 to make but that a half million dollars was spent on an advertising campaign, much of it in newspapers seen by Academy voters.

Hollywood thought the two partners were slightly daft when

Waste Costs Shippers Billion A Year, Coal Executive Says

Chicago, March 22 (AP)—A coal company official said today that "wasteful and unsound practices" of American railroads are costing railroad freight shippers a billion dollars a year.

A. W. Vogtle, vice president in charge of sales and traffic for the Debardeleben Coal Corp., Birmingham, Ala., said seven general freight rate increases since World War 2 have put "a drag on all commerce."

He asserted that federal and state regulatory agencies disregard "waste and efficiency" in permitting the railroad's to apply a cost plus system.

In a speech prepared for the American Power Conference sponsored by the Illinois Institute of Technology, he said:

"These preventable rail losses would be unthinkable in any other business and the unconcern of railroad executives over the years about the situation is the enigma of present day business."

He said the higher carload freight rates cover a 700 million dollar annual loss in passenger business, a 100 million dollar loss in merchandise freight service and 200 million dollars in lesser charges on government freight.

Vogtle said that except for the war years of 1942-45, passenger service has been operated at a growing loss since 1930. Passenger service, he added, has not been reduced in any appreciable relation to the 50 per cent drop in passenger traffic in the last 10 years. He said passenger fare has declined 20 per cent in the last 30 years while passenger expense has doubled. He added:

"These unwise railroad practices reflect the undying hope that the newer forms of transportation can be legislated out of business. This is a barren hope. . . .

"The answer lies not in impeding the use of the newer forms of transportation through punitive or restricting legislation or in otherwise arresting transportation progress.

"The cure is one of adjustment. The ideal is for each mode of transportation to fit sensibly into its own economic sphere according to the choice of patrons. This will assure lowest cost transportation for freight shippers and profitable operations for the carriers."

Vogtle said that although the coal industry has absorbed its entire increase in labor costs of 78 cents a ton in the postwar period, rail freight rates on coal have been increased 88 cents a ton.

He predicted a "flight from the railroads" by coal consumers to barge and truck transportation.

Almost Perfect

New York, March 22 (AP)—A 38-year-old man has been accused of fashioning a taxi medallion out of a coffee can lid and using it to operate a cab he bought from a junk yard for $125. Jesse Dow, of (116-27 147th street) Jamaica, Queens, father of three, was held in $1,000 bond yesterday after being picked up Tuesday by two hack inspectors. The medallions are aluminum shields issued by the Hack License Bureau for a fee of $60 a year. Their number is limited by law to 11,785. When a cab is sold, a medallion has brought as high as $10,000. Dow's medallion, police said, "was almost perfect, a work of art."

Bill Tied in Committee

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A bill that would bar the public and press from village appeals board meetings is tied up in committee. A spokesman for Republican Sen. Searles G. Shultz of Skaneateles, co-sponsor of the bill, said the measure would not reach the floor for a vote. A similar bill, applying to town appeals board meetings, was killed Monday night by its sponsor, Sen. Wheeler Milmoe, Canastota Republican. The boards handle zoning matters. Both bills would have allowed the boards to exclude the public from all but formal hearings.

INCOME TAX DEADLINE

About one month remains before the deadline for filing both Federal and State income returns.

The director of Internal Revenue Service urges taxpayers to prepare and file their 1955 income tax returns at the earliest possible moment. As time passes, it becomes increasingly difficult to collect all essential financial records of last year, receipted bills, canceled checks, and other papers which enable the taxpayer to prepare the most accurate type of return. In addition, the longer the taxpayer waits, the more pressing becomes the obligation, and some essential entries may be overlooked or incorrectly entered.

Telephone assistance is available by calling the local Internal Revenue office nearest your residence. Taxpayers who feel they require office help in preparing their returns should feel free to visit their Internal Revenue Service. Director Ratterree urges taxpayers to obtain assistance now, as it may possibly necessitate a longer waiting period to obtain assistance as the filing deadline approaches.

The Federal income tax is not the only income tax to be filed by April 16. There also is the New York State income tax, which is due at that time. If you are a resident of the State, none of the State tax has been withheld from your pay. Tax rates range from two to seven per cent for ordinary net income and from one per cent to three and one-half for capital gains. Over five million persons must file New York State income tax returns.

Besides being hit by the Federal and State taxes, we also must shell out to our own local government — city or town, county and school board.

Then there are the hidden or indirect ways in which we pay out more taxes.

Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer aren't aware they are paying these hidden levies when they hand out their cash for a loaf of bread, a screwdriver or a newspaper.

Add to all these the excise, luxury and utility taxes and you have some idea of the cost of government today.

INDUSTRY AIDS TEACHING

Arthur D. Little, Inc., a research and engineering firm in Boston, has launched a program to strengthen science and mathematics teaching in high schools in its area. Six recent graduates of either science or engineering colleges are recruited to teach one semester in the high schools and work at the Little laboratories the rest of the year. They are paid industry's high salaries while they are teaching.

Earl P. Stevenson, president of the research firm, explained that this nation is failing to attract youth to technological fields in sufficient numbers because of the "deterioration in the teaching of mathematics and natural science at the secondary school level." Shortages among teachers of science and engineering are expected to increase as long as these specialists can command far higher salaries in industry than in education. This, in turn, creates more shortages of industrial scientists and engineers.

While performing a public service, the firm is also protecting its own interests. A recent study of the National Science Foundation revealed that 40 to 60 billion dollars worth of the gross national product in 1953 can be attributed to scientific research conducted between 1928 and 1953, indicating that if the national economy is to keep growing, continued research is necessary. This demands a large reserve of scientific talent and personnel.

While the Arthur D. Little program cannot be the final answer to the need for competent teachers, it will undoubtedly help somewhat, and it may cause other private firms to become conscious that they, too, could well share the responsibility.

The do-it-yourself fan who finds it difficult to drive a nail straight may find the solution in one wag's advice: hold the hammer with both hands.

THE DEVALUATION OF STALIN

It stands to reason that those who hope to hold Stalin's place as Czar of all the Russians have to destroy his "personality," as they call it. Otherwise, as long as they rule, they will be compared to Stalin to their disadvantage because not only the Russian people, but the conquered peoples in all the satellite countries have been forced to believe that Stalin is the greatest figure that ever lived and that whatever he said and did was right.

How is such an order of life suddenly changed? The collective leadership consists entirely of Stalin's subordinates, men who are alive because Stalin let them live. Never once did they risk their lives to oppose what they now say Stalin did. Of course, Stalin was a murderer. Of course, he emulated Ivan the Terrible. But all the men who are in the collective leadership today were associated with Stalin in his absolutism. They profited by it.

However, politics is a technique that is practised without too much sentimentality anywhere. The objective of the politician is to keep himself in office and in power and a dead man is only useful to him if his ghost can help him in office and in power.

Stalin built the largest and most compact empire in history. He brought to Russia great power and enormous wealth. He did it by a brutality hardly equalled in history. His successors have to produce something to equal the achievements of Stalin. One of the ways for them to succeed is to discredit Stalin and his accomplishments. "Do you think that Stalin did so much at Yalta?" they can ask. "Look what we did at Geneva! Stalin made all the world suspicious of Russia, but we are winning victories without suspicion."

Another factor in this situation is that no great revolutionary leaders exist in Russia today because Stalin killed them. The present collective leadership is post-revolutionary as most of the people in Russia are post-revolutionary. If a man is 50 years old today, he was 11 years old in 1917; a man of 30 was born altogether outside the period of revolution and during the time when Stalin was already in control. There is little memory among the people of Trotzky, Bukharin, Zinoviev or Kamenev; Lenin is recalled as a distant god whose writings must be read to gain any advancement in the Communist hierarchy. The people to whom Stalin addressed himself in the 1920's were very different from those to whom Khrushchev addresses himself today. Bolshevik Russia is dying; a new Russia has come upon the scene. The martini has taken the place of vodka, but it's still bad for the liver.

The new Russia is being designed by Khrushchev who has to destroy Stalin's Russia and Stalin's Soviet Universal State before he can make his plans work. Stalin apparently preferred to be feared; Khrushchev, Bulganin, Malenkov and the others of this generation prefer to be popular. They travel abroad and dress in the native costume of wherever they happen to be. Malenkov grins in London like a cartoon of a cockney character I once saw in a Charles Laughton picture. Maybe he saw the picture, too. Stalin did not find it necessary to do any grinning; he was obviously willing to be hated by those who were not his slaves. Stalinism prevailed among a people accustomed to a Czar. It is unbelievable that there is not a Stalinist faction in the Presidium. Khrushchev may have to exile or kill its members before he can totally obliterate Stalinism.

In places like Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and China, the elimination of Stalinism must come as a shock to the Communists who have been drilled to accept Stalinism as part of the socialist canon. In Italy and the United States, this new development is particularly damaging.

The American Communists on orders of Stalin through Jacques Duclos humiliated and eliminated Earl Browder for taking the identical position that Khrushchev took in his famous seven-hour speech, namely, that there is more than one road for the achievement of socialism. What can the American Communists say to Browder now? How can they defend themselves except by insisting that Stalin was right and that Khrushchev is now wrong?

This situation needs to be watched closely and understood because it may turn into a world cataclysm during the next year.

That Body of Yours

PREVENTING ANXIETY

Some of my readers may wonder why I have been speaking so often about anxiety lately. One reason is that we are rapidly becoming known as the "anxious nation" with so many of our people seeking help from both their own physician and from institutions for the relief of anxiety states that are spoiling our everyday lives. We have spoken in the three previous articles about various phases of the treatment and control of anxiety and today I would like to add a final word to this series with some remarks on the prevention of anxiety as treatment of anxiety is by no means complete until methods of preventing the recurrence of anxiety states have been considered and adopted. It is easier to quiet a disturbed state that is just beginning than to reduce it once it has established itself.

Dr. Richard Jenkins of the Veterans Administration, Washington, recommends that if an original attack lasted some time or was repeated, the convalescent is asked to call his doctor whenever worry is building up or threatens to get out of hand. A trying situation can be endured with regular intervals of relief. Once a week, the harassed mother may arrange to have an afternoon off, the tense student to enjoy a social date, or the business man to play a round of golf.

Satisfaction in life is a bulwark against nagging fears. Recreation at its best is, indeed, recreation, and room should be made for fun — fun of the patient's choosing. Those bodily states opposite to those related to anxiety may be cultivated methodically incuding muscular relaxation. A warm bath is useful in relieving emotional stress. It is wise to try to cultivate a life pattern with varied interests and pleasant human relationships which can help reinforce faith in one's self.

What about personal relationships which cause anxiety? The strain of unwilling submission to an overbearing parent or spouse is nearly always lessened by frank discussion. If the person who feels he is being imposed upon can express his feelings and objections openly, both mental attitude and personal relations are likely to improve. Sometimes some preliminary coaching may be required because the difficulty may be exaggerated if the person tries to take a stand and fails. Also, the problem of anxiety is often simplified by firm, well-understood religious principles and the current expansion of organized religion is good news in our country where anxiety is notoriously prevalent.

The cost of treatment may be a source of uneasiness and a frank discussion of necessary or desirable medical expenses and the most reasonable alternatives often reduces budget worries.

Dr. Jenkins recommends a psychiatric consultation when anxiety is associated with (1) strong depressive tone and suicidal preoccupation; (2) increasing vagueness and inability to express thoughts clearly; (3) persecution trends; (4) threatening withdrawal from the world around one; (5) approaching panic.

Do not hesitate to seek help if you feel you need it.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The big drive to lighten President Eisenhower's burdens is not going to make him a hermit.

This was proved the other day when he received a delegation of six 4-H Club national award winners. They were three farm boys and three gals—scrubbed, corn-fed and good looking.

Angela Heine of Ellendale, N. D., and Franklin McKay of Clayton, N. M., achievement winners. Ann Guindon of Plankinton, S. D., and Eldon Rebhorn of Oswego, Ill., leadership winners. Nellie McClure of Cleveland, Tenn., and William C. Thiesenhusen of Muskego, Wis., citizenship winners.

They presented the President with a picture book on the accomplishments of 2,100,000 4-H (Head, Heart, Hand & Health) teen-age members.

The President shook hands with all six and asked what studies they were majoring in.

They were photographed with the President—the boys well in the background, the gals front and center. All over in 10 minutes.

NOW THIS IS significant news. Originally, when Department of Agriculture was arranging this year's 4-H convention program in Washington, this event was booked for Gov. Sherman Adams, the Assistant to the president.

When this got out, a number of people said, "Oh, oh! There are going to be some mighty disappointed 4-H clubbers."

In the past, presidents have always received them.

Though Agriculture Department people shook their heads sadly over this come-down, they didn't try to do anything about it. But when President Eisenhower went over the list of White House visitors for the week, he spotted this 4-H delegation and said simply, "I want to see them."

So. Gov. Adams got cut out of the job and the picture.

THERE ARE A FEW pet groups which the President has a personal interest in. He's crazy about farm kids, in particular.

These he intends to keep on seeing, in spite of doctors' orders that he cut down on unnecessary chores.

So if you want to know who's important around here, in the future, all you have to do is watch the list of people the President gets photographed with.

If you don't rate, you'll get farmed out on one of the White House assistants. Which one will depend on who's free at the time.

If you're a national champion —Railroad Man of the Year, Truck Driver of the Year—you'll probably get your picture taken with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

If you're just a shade under, you'll get Gov. Adams, who's taking on more and more of these ceremonial jobs.

IT'S ADAMS, the dry New Englander, who's going to spin a wheel of fortune to pick this year's Washington Cherry Blossom Festival Queen.

President Eisenhower has never picked or received a beauty queen, by the way, unless the task was forced on him at some out-of-town ceremony where he didn't control the program.

When Gov. Adams is all tied up and doesn't have time to be photographed receiving a grand champion turkey or a first prize cherry pie sent to the White House, this honor is passed on to one of the assistants to The Assistant.

That would be Deputy Assistant Wilton B. Persons, or Assistant to the Deputy Assistant, Homer H. Gruenther. Or somebody else.

It's all done in the interests of relieving the President of unnecessary burdens. It's all right, as long as nobody goes away mad, and it doesn't lose any votes.

The giant water bug carries his unborn young on his back, where they have been placed by the female.

Winds of almost gale speed swept over the area, but no serious damage was reported.

Plans were in progress for the raising of the tug Rob, which had sunk in the Rondout creek earlier in the month.

March 22, 1946—The police board accepted the resignation of Police Chief Charles Phinney, effective April 30, after 38 years of service in the department.

The BPW voted a 10 per cent raise for employes of the public works and engineering departments.

A police report showed only five reportable accidents, with six persons injured, in February.

Truman May Yet Be Last Hope For Democrats in November

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 22—Maybe Harry Truman will have to run for the Democrats as a last resort. Certainly the Minnesota primaries show the Democrats to be badly split as between Senator Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson. Mr. Truman is cocksure that he can unite them and beat President Eisenhower.

What happened in the Minnesota primaries cannot be taken, however, as conclusive evidence that Stevenson is on the way out. The votes in presidential primaries, after all, mean very little to the bosses of a national convention. The Democratic party bosses and organizations in most of the big cities have been for Stevenson, and they can bring about his nomination if they so desire. They did so in 1952, when Stevenson didn't enter a single primary, while Kefauver campaigned actively in several state primaries and was generally victorious.

THERE IS, however, a natural prejudice among the voters against anyone who has been defeated before in a presidential election. Grover Cleveland, Democrat, is about the only man who ever made a comeback—he was elected president in 1884, defeated in 1888, but elected in 1892. William Jennings Bryan got the Democratic nomination in 1896, 1900 and 1904 but was defeated each time. Thomas Dewey, Republican, was nominated twice—in 1944 and 1948—but defeated both times.

Adlai Stevenson might qualify for the vice-presidential nomination this year. His grandfather, a Democrat, was vice president under Grover Cleveland. There has been a lot of solicitude expressed recently by Democratic Party spokesmen about the quality of the Republican vice-presidential nominee. Symposiums and radio forums have been conducted in the last few months to emphasize the need for a "first-rate" candidate for the vice presidency. Most of this effort has come from the so-called "Liberals" who don't like Vice President Nixon, but now they have an opportunity to provide a first-rate "Liberal" for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination, as the radicals interpret the world "liberal."

SOMETIMES A single presidential primary in a key state is decisive. Wendell Willkie, Republican, who was the party nominee for President in 1940, found the tide running against him in his first big primary contest—in Wisconsin—in 1944 and threw in the sponge. He accepted the political tradition that, once beaten, it is hard to win favor again with the voters.

Mr. Stevenson says his defeat in Minnesota will not change his plans. But already there are hints that Governor Harriman of New York will step in with the Tammany organization behind him to woo the Stevenson vote. A Harriman-Stevenson ticket might be offered as a bait to the former Illinois governor.

Primaries do not usually tell much about the relative strength of the parties. But it is significant that the Democrats polled a much larger total vote than did the Republicans in Minnesota. President Eisenhower, of course, was, for all practical purposes, unopposed. There was no contest and no reason for Republicans to vote on the presidency except to compliment Mr. Eisenhower.

THERE ARE widely current reports that in Minnesota many Republicans voted in the Democratic primaries and that Senator Kefauver benefited by such a shift. There could hardly have been a plot by the Republican leaders to bring this about. In the first place, such a drive is hard to organize and, in the second place, it is of doubtful value because the lessened total vote of the Republicans is already being interpreted as a farm revolt of Republican voters, and that's not the kind of publicity the Republicans would seek.

Unquestionably there will be a big defection of Republican votes in Minnesota this year due to the farm issue. Minnesota is one of the states that the Republicans are very much worried about. The primary result there this week gives the Republicans little comfort.

Senator Kefauver has proved himself a good campaigner and seems to have retained much of the vote-getting strength he exhibited in 1952 in the Democratic preconvention battle. But he is very far away from the nomination. A few victories in the primaries aren't enough to win him the support of the big labor and political organizations which dictate the presidential nomination in the Democratic party. Only Harry Truman can unite all the factions of the party and, despite his own professions of disinterestedness, there is under way a quiet but powerful movement in his behalf.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Scottsdale, Arizona—The Baltimore Orioles are closing their first season of spring training in Scottsdale with a social triumph and at least a victory, though at short odds, in the economic zone. They are a spirited crew of conventional outwards, all with the impersonal, faceless aspects of robots which the professionals acquire because the bills of their caps and the sun-resistant garbos worn by outfielders obscure their features. Thus, besides their pretty young wives in the stands and Paul Richards, their club executive, few others can identify them save by noting the numerals on their flannels and referring to the official roster, price 15 cents.

Scottsdale is a boom-town of the new southwest, flaunting quaint reminders of a wicked day when ladies hoisted their skirts and their noses and swished past saloons where females, distinctly not ladies, danced the can-can in short dresses, sometimes revealing their garters. At present, wickedness is extinct, but ladies frequent saloons and sit on high stools at the bars, wearing much less than the dancehall girls of yore. The ladies of the now wear slacks ranging from stylish productions to washed-out denims with frayed ends below their knees and, usually, a shapeless adaptation of the maternity blouse dangling outside their pants.

Gents, too, are wearing a conventionalized maternity blouse with a slit up each side which is reputed to be an adaptation of the shirt worn by the Najavos, Papagos and 'Paches. That it may be, but our brave lads fought a war in the Philippines to make the little brown brother of William H. Taft stuff his shirttail into his pants in obeisance to our manifest destiny. When the little brown brother had learned to stuff his shirttail inside, our brave lads embarked for home braying "no tengo tobacco, no tengo papel; no tengo dinero, gosh-darn-it to heck!"

The native merchants, innkeepers and artisans are easily distinguished from the tourists. They dress a good deal the same as their opposite numbers in Grand Rapids, Grand Forks and Grand Island. If they wear big hats, they are not going western, being western already. The practical purpose of the big hat is to shade the subject from the sun and lately progress, thrusting innovations on mankind, has been offering big hats made of disposable stuff. The traditional big hat cost from $10 to $100 but, like the bathtub, lasted forever. So the new kind will stimulate the hat trade and arouse prayers of thanksgiving from the despondent hatters of Danbury, Westport and Norwalk.

The Scottsdale civic fathers raised $165,000 to buy a big lot and put up a ball-park with lockers and showers for more than 100 players and seats for 4,000. Carpenters and other such workers donated their toil. Then many of the local banks, restaurants and purveyors bought boxes even as the New York aristocrats joined the social set of special privilege at the Yankee Stadium. The Orioles drew 4,700 customers on their opening day, at from $1 to $2.50. Scottsdale pays them to come here rather than the reverse. The visiting club gets half of the gate minus taxes. There are now four major league clubs in Arizona for spring exercises. The others are the Indians, Cubs and Giants so there is a nice quorum.

The community's attitude toward professional baseball is the same strange jumble that baffles students of trends everywhere. The locals will not support their local Class Z professional clubs, some of which used to get by joyously on batteries of slot-machines which met the deficits. But, in Phoenix, at least, a league of cuties in gaudy short pants enjoyed financial and social prosperity playing soft-ball at night.

By contrast, the Mexicans always hunger for baseball and readily sacrifice to keep local teams in action. The Arizona League, whose stand-bys are Phoenix, Tucson and Bisbee, lost El Paso and Juarez, but three Mexican towns have come in, including Cananea, a copper camp in the mountains east of Nogales. Last year, Cananea drew 219,000 customers on her home grounds by a check-off at the offices of the mine whereby many of the miners bought season tickets for their families. The cuisine and comforts of Cananea are below the standards of American baseball, even in Class Z, but somehow the league bulled its way through.

There was great jubilation over a no-hit game in Cananea near the end of the season. Juan Contreras, the lanceador or pitcher, received public adulation and gifts of chickens, a pig, a saddle and a religious statue. As often happens, there were unfortunately ugly disparagements. Disgruntled members of the Nogales Club sneered that the official scorer of Cananea scored singles, doubles and triples as errors, which, in Mexican baseballese, are called sins. They also said the score of 28 to 12 in favor of Nogales patently discredited the claim of a no-hitter. But wrong failed and right prevailed, for there is no appeal from the decision of an official scorer. Thus Juan became a candidate for the hall of fame at Cooperstown.

and the Soviet Union each to open up 20,000 to 30,000 square miles of their territory to inspection teams representing the five UN subcommittee members—Britain, France, Canada, Russia and the United States.

THE STATE of West Virginia has a territory of about 21,000 square miles and South Carolina has about 31,000 square miles.

The inspection teams would carry out various forms of ground checks, make aerial photographs, make tests of port control and then report back to the subcommittee with their findings.

Stassen suggested the demonstration areas should include nonsecret military installations, facilities and units; at least one port, an airfield and a railroad terminal.

Russia's subcommittee representative, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, had no immediate comment on the U. S. proposal. Britain, France and Canada were reported to have expressed agreement in informal talks outside the subcommittee sessions.

STASSEN also proposed an exchange of techincal missions by the five subcommittee nations. These would visit each country to study disarmament control and inspection methods. Stassen said their objective would be to devise an effective system of checking disarmament processes and that they would not have to probe into secret or sensitive information.

The three-stage arms control plan presented earlier by Britain and France was described by western diplomats as pegged on the conclusion of a UN-sponsored general disarmament pact.

THE PACT would call for member nations to renounce use of nuclear weapons except for defense and would set up an executive committee and an international control organ. The plan's three stages envisage (1) a freeze on arms, armies and military spending of member states at levels to be negotiated; (2) limitation of nuclear tests, and (3) a ban on actual production of nuclear weapons.

Measures to prevent violations would be established through the international control organ's executive.

Gromyko asked several questions concerning the British-French plan but he did not accept or reject it.

Several reservations concerning the proposal have been outlined by Stassen in informal talks with French and British officials.

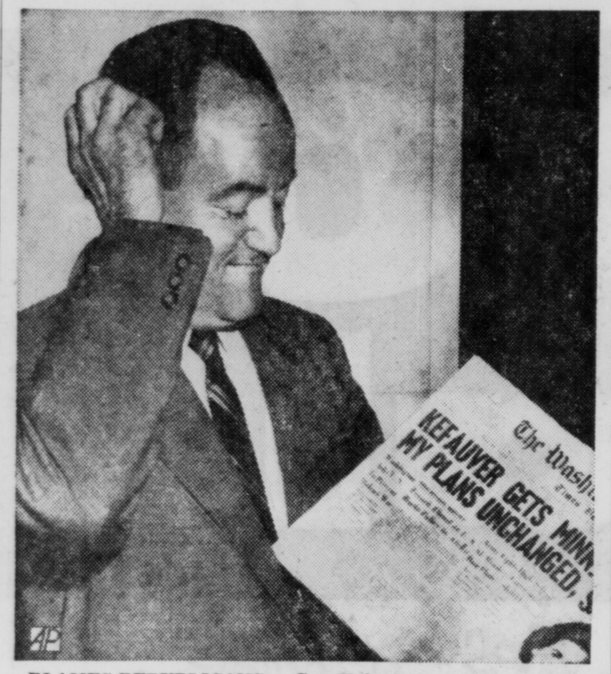
STATE ARMORY,
Manor Avenue



BLAMES REPUBLICANS — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), who backed Adlai Stevenson in the Minnesota primary, poses in Washington, March 21, with a newspaper headlining Sen. Estes Kefauver's defeat of Stevenson in the state's Democratic presidential primary. Humphrey said "utter disgust with the Republican farm program" may have been responsible for what he said was an apparent invasion of the Democratic primary by GOP voters. Humphrey attributed Stevenson's defeat at least in part to Republican voters. (AP Wirephoto).

Democrats . . .

ing against a group, rather than the farm program."

Sen. Bender (R.-Ohio) said "the voters repudiated the Humphrey-Freeman leadership" and showed that they have "just grown tired of Mr. Stevenson's smart aleck approach to national and international issues."

SEN. GEORGE (D.-Ga.), on the other hand, said the size of the Democratic vote indicated "strong grass roots support" for Democratic farm policies.

Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) who fought alongside the Democrats for a farm bill carrying price supports higher than Eisenhower wanted, said a presidential veto of that measure "would have disastrous results" for the GOP cause in the midwest.

At his news conference yesterday, Eisenhower hinted that he might veto any bill emerging from a Senate-House conference if it resembles the version passed by the Senate Monday night.

THYE SAID in an interview: "I would be anything but frank if I did not say there were some Republican farm votes that went over to support Sen. Kefauver and some also that went in to support Stevenson."

He said there was "nothing alarming" in that since Eisenhower had only token opposition and Republicans made no effort to get out a big vote. But a veto of the farm bill "would be alarming," Thye added.

Sen. Mundt (R.-S.D.), another supporter of rigid price supports, termed Stevenson's defeat "an expression of support for the country boy from Tennessee rather than the city slicker from Chicago."

WHILE HE SAID the vote did not reflect any criticism of the Eisenhower administration, Mundt said "the farm vote is restless today," adding that "it will require improved economic conditions in the country districts to keep the vote in the GOP columns."

He said a veto of the farm bill "could have a serious effect on the farm vote." Mundt said in his area there is "resentment against Benson, but not against Ike."

House Democratic majority leader McCormack (Mass.) said the voters "want a new face in 1956." He called the Minnesota results "a very significant victory for Kefauver and a severe blow" to Stevenson.

Rep. Wayle L. Hays (D.-Ohio) called Kefauver "the best vote getter the Democrats have."

Says Peace Is Uneasy

Great Falls, Mont. March 22 (AP)—"Peace and prosperity is the theme of the Republican campaign this year," Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said last night, but the peace is uneasy and so is the prosperity." The senator, bolstered by his unexpected Minnesota primary victory, moved westward today to start an intensive campaign for California's 68 votes at the Democratic national convention. He referred in his Great Falls speech to a Lincoln Day talk by Vice President Nixon who, Kefauver said, "bragged about the Republicans providing the biggest tax cut in history."

The automobile industry uses about 65 per cent of all rubber products made in the United States.

Legion, CWV Are Against Closing TB Hospital Here

Two ex-servicemen's organizations have gone on record as opposed to removal of patients from Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital to a state owned institution at Oneonta.

At a regular meeting last night Kingston Post 150, American Legion, voted unanimously against sending TB patients to Homer Folks Hospital, Oneonta.

A communication from St. Ignatius Loyola Post 1769, Catholic War Veterans, informed The Freeman that the membership recently voted against closing the local hospital.

Other organizations and individuals have voiced protests since announcement that the Ulster County Board of Supervisors voted 19-11 for a survey to determine whether the local hospital should be closed in favor of using the state hospital.

The ex-servicemen's resolutions pointed to hardships on the part of patients in going away from their home area, and upon relatives and friends who would have to travel almost 100 miles to visit them.

At last night's American Legion meeting a nominating committee was appointed by Commander Daniel Bittner to propose a slate of candidates for election in June.

Meyer Kaplan, a past commander, is chairman of the committee. Others serving on it are James Costello, Paul Hyatt, Andrew J. Murphy 3d and the Rev. Clarance Brown.

The Mature Parent

Don't Let 'Rules' Stampede Your Own Better Judgment

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Because in the Middle Ages our ancestors started the rumor that the shadow cast by a gallows was dangerous, you and I still go out of our way to avoid walking under a ladder.

We are performing a superstitious ritual—an act we take, not because our own reason sees it as protective, but because some one else has said it is.

I think the mother who signs herself "Mrs. Edward O." may also be a victim of superstitious ritual.

Her 14-year-old girl is being rushed by a new school "crowd." Unlike the "quiet" youngsters who used to be her friends, her new ones make free use of her family's telephone, icebox, TV.

Two of the girls have had to be reminded that Mr. O.'s den exists for reasons other than their necking convenience. Never before this new "crowd" leaves do its members make any attempt to help their hostess clean up.

Yet her mother writes, "I suppose you'll think we should put up with it. I know that you child training experts think that home entertaining is very important to girls of my daughter's age . . ."

Even if all the experts in the world think you have to entertain unmannerly young people, it does not mean we have to agree with them. The good ones wouldn't want you to.

Instead of agreeing with them, they'd want you to think for yourself as you sit in your kitchen in recoil from the aggressiveness that stampedes through your home, abuses your good will and exploits your child.

Instead of seeking our solution in anyone's generalized rule for parental behavior, let's look for it in our own individual experience.

Let's begin to think like this: "Do I like people who treat me as these youngsters are treating my child? No, I don't. Then maybe she doesn't either. Now I come to think of it, she's complained several times about the way the girls leave her alone to clean up.

"Could she be holding on to them for a reason other than friendship? Maybe she's holding on to them because she thinks I want her to. Is this whole problem just the child's struggle to produce the social activity she thinks I want from her?"

Obedience to child training rituals is bound to develop rigidity in us that makes it impossible to use our own experience and judgment.

If Mrs. O. didn't suffer from it, she'd herself know that she hasn't been encouraging "home entertaining."

She's been encouraging aggressiveness.

"It sure beats a horse and buggy!"

"When I was a District Superintendent of Schools back in 1912, we didn't have telephones in our schools. I had to cover six towns in a horse and buggy. Sometimes it would take days to make the rounds. Today, the schools are just seconds away from each other—by telephone. It makes the whole school system better coordinated. And I guess the phone's made 'most everything else easier, too."

Florist Plunges 16-Floors to Death

New York, March 22 (AP)—Arthur S. Brooks, about 45, a florist, plunged to his death today from the roof of a penthouse atop a 16-story apartment building.

The body was found on the roof of a two story rear extension of the building, located at the northwest corner of 54th street and Lexington avenue. Brooks lived at 41 West 72nd street.

Henry Heins, building superintendent, said he went to the penthouse roof upon receiving reports a man was acting strangely there. He told police he arrived in time to see Brooks go over the rail.

Police said no notes were found. Brooks was unmarried.

JCC Program Told Chest Directors; Fund Now $72,122

A program emphasizing youth but stressing family participation is offered at the Jewish Community Center, Sol Silverman, executive director, told members of the board of directors of the Kingston Area Community Chest, Inc., meeting there Wednesday night.

Adults are brought into the youth program by providing adult supervision and in various parents' night observances, he said. There is also a functioning adult program committee, with classes in bridge, Latin-American dances and ceramics provided.

ABOUT 500 different children make use of the Center building in the course of a month, Mr. Silverman pointed out. Some of the activities include a nursery school for three-year-olds, meeting three hours daily, Monday through Friday, Boy and Girl Scouts, art classes and a woodworking shop is now being outfitted.

The program is open to all, regardless of race, color or creed, Mr. Silverman said. The Center building, in its convenient uptown location, is also made availbale to other groups for meetings. At the present time, the Jewish Community Center is cooperating with another Community Chest agency, the Girl Scouts, in serving as uptown distribution point for the Girl Scout cookie sale.

A Day Comp sponsored by the Jewish Community Center last year served a capacity of approximately 70 children. An increase to 80 or 85 is hoped for this year, Mr. Silverman said, with provision of additional transportation facilities.

Prior to the opening of the Chest board meeting, the members were taken on a tour of the building by Mr. Silverman and David Kline, president of the Center.

THE MEETING was the second under the Chest's new policy of meeting at the buildings of the various member agencies. Next month, the board will meet at the Salvation Army building.

At the business meeting, at which N. Jansen Fowler, Community Chest president, presided, Mrs. George Rifenbary was elected a director-at-large to fill the unexpired term of Dr. George Bushnell, who resigned.

Provisional second quarter allocations to agencies were approved for payment March 31, upon recommendation of the Budget Committee. The payment will total $14,056, a slight increase over the total of $13,843 paid January 2 for the first quarter.

Total pledges received for 1956 to and including March 20 amounted to $72,122.45, it was reported by John R. Warren, executive director.

Talks to Malenkov

Castle Donington, England, March 22 (AP)—A blunt-spoken British workman pushed his way through crowds of English and Russian officials today and did some plain talking to Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov. "I thought this was going to be a mission where the average working man was to get to you," steel erector Les Thompson said. "Why have we no opportunities to put questions to you?" Malenkov sidestepped Thompson's questions by saying through an interpreter he would tell the Soviet people about "this desire for contact."

The phonograph was invented in 1888.

GOP Will Launch Plan to Stabilize State's Economy

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The legislature's Republican majorities are ready to launch a joint committee on a year-long quest to stabilize "conditions of prosperity in the state's economy."

A resolution was introduced yesterday to create a six-member committee, with a $50,000 appropriation, to study ways of keeping the state's economy healthy.

THE BILL BY Republican Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell of Montgomery county would carry out a program suggested by Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of the Senate said "a program of this nature is needed to bring about the highest possible level of employment in the state."

The committee would be directed to devise methods of keeping business in the state, attracting new business and stabilizing conditions of prosperity in the state's economy, Javitts said.

THE FIELDS for study range from labro-surplus areas to civilian use of atomic energy and from working conditions to the problems of families with low incomes.

Javits said the program would not affect Commerce Department activity or Harriman administration proposals along such lines.

Heck and Mahoney said "other states are making great efforts to attract industry and business . . . and the means must be developed to keep the Empire State in the forefront of industry, business and employment."

"WHILE SOME new businesses have come into the state, at the same time a substantial number of them have left," they said. "Moreover, there is a shortage of qualified workers in certain skilled and semi-skilled trades and more such shortages are indicated for the future."

The group, to be known as the Joint Committee on the State's Economy, would comprise three assemblymen chosen by the speaker and three senators appointed by the temporary president.

Enquirer employes and other investors purchased the newspaper in 1952 from the John R. McLean estate.

GENERAL STORE—1870 STYLE—If you're looking for a "chaw" of Sweet Mist, an old-fashioned coffee grinder or powder and ball for your musket, you'll be able to find it in the Kansas City (Mo.) Museum. A replica of a general store of the 1870's is being built there as part of the "Independence Rooms" display, depicting early history of the area. There will also be a replica of the famous Weston Blacksmith Shop, which played an important part in outfitting wagon trains for the trek west from Independence when it was known as "The Queen City of the Trails, Gateway to the West." Above, Dr. Kenneth Prescott, museum director, looks over articles commonly in stock in old general stores.

Finletter Says GOP Plot Beat Adlai Stevenson

Thomas K. Finletter, co-chairman of the New York State Stevenson for President Committee, charges that Republicans helped defeat his candidate in the Minnesota primary.

In a communication to The Freeman, that former secretary of the air force said a survey by his staff showed that approximately 125,000 Republicans crossed party lines in an effort to "stop Stevenson."

Finletter said, "Clearly the GOP leadership has sought to use the loose primary laws of Minnesota as a means of embarrassing the best Democratic candidate for the presidency."

He added, "The Republican invasion came off almost perfectly. 'Proxy Democrats' who crossed over from GOP ranks increased the Democratic vote yesterday by 261 per cent over the 1952 primary."

"We are looking forward to further primaries in the country," he said, "where it shall be more than fully shown that Adlai Stevenson is the clear-cut choice of the members of the Democratic party."

Outlook Is Good For State Farms, Speaker Says

Ithaca, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—An outlook of "conservative watchful optimism" is justified for the national economy, Cornell's dean of the College of Agriculture said today.

Dean W. I. Myers spoke at the 45th annual farm and home week here and said the billion dollar question today is, "can the U. S. adjust from World War 2 to peace without a severe depression?"

"So far the record is fairly good," he said.

AMONG THE favorable factors in today's economy, Dean Myers said, is the maintenance of housing and other construction at a high level; 1956 will be the eighth year in which more than one million new homes will be built, he said.

Some decline is probable in the next few years, he added, but no severe drop is in sight.

Similarly, he said, investment in new factories and business buildings will reach a new peak this year, and national security expenditures will continue high.

ANY BUSINESS recession in the latter part of 1956 or 1957 would probably be mild, he said, like the one from the spring of 1953 to the fall of 1954.

Dean Myers, chairman of Secretary of Agriculture Benson's non-partisan National Agricultural Advisory Committee, said that on the national agricultural scene, the present price-cost squeeze is severe but not disastrous and seems worse because of general prosperity.

The principal cause of the decline in farm prices, he said, has been deflation, reaction from speculation and fear of World War III.

U. S. farm prices are back to the level of early 1950, he said, and "They will be fairly stable for the next year or so."

DEAN MYERS also expressed optimism about the future for New York state farmers and said 1956 should be as good as 1955 and perhaps a little better.

The speaker said the new milk marketing order for northern New Jersey should improve New York pool prices a little. More favorable feed prices, also, will make for heavier feeding, he said.

The Cornell Dean said too much emphasis has been placed on the importance of government price programs to farm prosperity. The only such programs that have helped New York farmers materially, he said, are the federal and state milk market orders which help in stabilizing prices.

"The most promising ways to increase net incomes now are by reducing costs, improving quality, and expanding markets," he said.

WEDDING TOKEN — Prince Rainier III of Monaco will distribute a bronze medal to all of his subjects after his marriage to actress Grace Kelly. Shown above are both sides of the medal, designed by French artist Henri Lagriffoul. It is being made in Paris. Date on the medal is April 19, 1956.

To Ask Fare Boost

Chicago, March 22 (AP) — The nation's railroads announced today they have petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to boost passenger fares 5 per cent effective May 1. E. B. Padrick of Chicago, chairman of the Transcontinental Passenger Assn., said commutation or suburban fares would not be affected by the petition.

Track Operators Confident of Aid To Expand Plants

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Bigtime harness track operators seeking state aid to expand their plants were confident today that the necessary legislation would be approved.

Their bill was passed by the Assembly yesterday, 81 to 60, after undergoing a savage attack, and was due for Senate action this afternoon.

Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceway operators, who sponsored the measure, expected the Senat Finance Committee to report favorably on it. This would be a necessary step toward a floor vote in the Senate.

UNDER TERMS of the bill, the tracks and the state would divide equally any parimutuel revenue in the future above the state's 1955 record take of $25,470,000.

The tracks' share would be divided proportionally into separate construction funds, one for each harness track. The money in the funds would be used to reimburse the track for capital improvements it made.

NO TRACK would be eligible for any of this reimbursement unless the total parimutuel revenue exceeded the 1955 figure and the individual track also improved on its 1955 totals.

Roosevelt and Yonkers operators say that the state takes 93 per cent of the track profits, leaving the managements only 7 per cent. They say this income is not enough to enable them to borrow from banks enough money to finance their planned multi-million dollar renovations.

If state aid were assured, they say, they can borrow enough from banks to finance their projects. With bigger plants, they contend, would come bigger crowds and thus more revenue would accrue to the state.

President's Illness Throws New Light on Heart Ailment

By RELMAN MORIN

New York (AP)—President Eisenhower's illness has had some interesting and far-reaching effects on the whole story of heart trouble in the United States.

It is as though a curtain had been pulled, letting in a lot of light.

THIS THOUGHT struck me forcibly during some recent political pulse-taking along the Atlantic seaboard. I talked with politicians and corporation heads, but most with plain John Smith, the voter, and his wife. The question of the President's physical condition naturally figured in most of these conversations.

Several things emerged.

People now have a very good idea of exactly what happens in a "heart attack."

NEWSPAPERS published an immense amount of basic information and explanation, along with charts and diagrams, after the President was stricken. In short, the ABC's of this disability are pretty well known now whereas, before, it was a mysterious and terrifying subject to most of us.

Also, business executives discovered that they have more cardiac cases in their organization than they realized. "I was surprised about some in this office," said a New York business leader. "I never would have suspected them."

STILL ANOTHER result seems to have been that people who had heart attacks have lost some shyness about discussing the problem.

I met several who, in discussing the coming election, quietly volunteered the information that they had been through the same experience as Eisenhower. (I didn't mention the fact that I have, too.)

Incidentally, three out of four said they would vote for him, although one man said he thought the President was "foolish" to undertake a second term.

Another story seems funny now to the man who lived through it.

HE SAID THAT, for years, he had pains in his chest and an occasional flutter, and was convinced he had heart trouble. He told nobody, and said he couldn't bring himself to see his doctor and get the verdict. Instead, he lived in spasms of dread. Then the President's case steeled him to have an examination. It showed a spinal dislocation.

All he needed, he said, was a built-up shoe!

Unquestionably, some of the panic and terror about heart disease has been dispelled simply by the publicity the President's attack brought to it.

PEOPLE KNOW that thousands of others have had attacks, survived them, and gone on to live happy and useful lives. They know the "cardiac" is not an invalid.

Statistics in the United States are sometimes called "alarming." But the odds are still heavily in your favor that you won't have an attack. One corporation, which had had a number of cases in a given year, discovered they amounted to exactly 1 out of every 100 employes.

It seems certain, too, that more money now will go to research into the causes of heart disease. Heart-fund organizations say they have not fared well, comparatively, although the need is great.

Finally, there is a school of thought which believes that public discussion of this problem is harmful, that it may induce anxiety and apprehension, and perhaps actually bring on heart attacks.

But there is also a saying, "The truth shall set you free."

Specialty Chickens Win

Champaign, Ill. (AP)—Commercial broiler plants produce young poultry so efficiently that fryer production no longer is profitable for the average farmer, says D. J. Bray, University of Illinois poultry specialist. The commercial broiler producer has a large volume of uniform birds available which command a higher price. On the other hand, market prices for farm fryers are low because there isn't a well established market for them. Buyers discriminate against them because they come in small numbers and vary in size and quality.

The average farmer in the United States uses his tractor 700 hours a year.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

Inasmuch as gusts of inflationary winds are starting to blow again through the economy—much as the blizzards came upon us unexpectedly here in the northeast this past week—one wonders what is in store for American business and finance.

It just happens that within the past two or three weeks the Ruminator has received communications and clippings from Great Britain. Also, it has been of interest to note the comparative trends of stock prices and interest rates in London and New York.

The question arises, if you are contrary minded, whether we here in America are embarked upon the same inflationary and rough roads which England and other West-European countries are travelling?

My correspondents, who have been good enough to send me their "English views," seem to feel that we are living in a fool's paradise and soon shall learn that we cannot have the false pleasures of a hyper-boom and inflation without running into the crises which now confront them over there.

Here in America it is thought that the monetary bosses (the Federal Reserve Board) have been quite cagey and prudent in their restraints. It is pointed out that the rediscount rate has been raised several times in the past year to curb over-borrowing. (The rediscount rate is the interest commercial banks pay when they borrow from the Federal Reserve banks. When this rate is increased it tends to discourage commercial banks from loose lending. In other words, it is aimed at "tightening money"—making it more difficult to borrow.)

Our rediscount rate has been raised to 2½ per cent—which still is ridicuously low, of course; but it was only 1½ per cent a year ago.

In England the similar rate has been jumped to 5½ per cent! And there are observers who say that it is not high enough yet!

This is merely one comparison to show how a fight against inflation causes extraordinary measures in monetary policies, when the inflation is permitted to run unchecked.

Considering the sudden burst of strength in the American stock market recently—and the glowing accounts from industry that colossal increases in capital expenditures for expansion are now planned—it is a bit ominous to think what may happen here.

All economic history bears out the sequence which may be anticipated if a new and fast inflation should be "ignited" here. It is still a fact of life and economics that a fall from a high cliff is more damaging than rolling off a mound!

If we are to take a warning from the crises abroad, then one cannot look upon a resumption of a fast rise in the stock market, or upon daily notices of price increases and wage demands, with either complacency or composure.

As a good friend writes from near London, there "is just too much full employment." What he means is that there are too many jobs seeking too few workers, and too much (inflated) money chasing too few goods.

He further reports that wages have become inflated to a degree where a worker is almost unable to produce a comparable value of work. Beginning wages are extremely high.

These same characteristics prevail here, as you know. If you turn to our Sunday papers you find literally pages of advertisements wherein industry is begging for workers, especially those technically educated or trained. You have doubtless seen reports of the beginning salaries offered to college graduates this coming spring. It is common for a young grad to expect $5,000 a year as a starting figure. Engineers with post-graduate degrees are offered much more. It is interesting to compare this with those of us who get a job at seven dollars a week, or less, when we set out to make our living.

It is all wonderful and marvelous, but is it possible that the millenium has been discovered and that such prosperity can continue for ever? We oldsters (who are called old fogies in these modern days) don't believe the old cycles have been wiped out. But of course we could be wrong!

Sales Are Greater

St. Louis, March 22 (AP)—General Steel Castings Corp. today reported net income of $2,338,106 or $4.72 a share for 1955 compared to $1,879,197, equal to $3.05 a share, the previous year. General Steel, a major producer of large steel castings for railroads and heavy industry, said in its annual report to stockholders that net sales for the year totaled $32,608,612, compared to $28,815,324 in 1954. The firm has plants in Granite City, Ill., and Eddystone, Pa.

Labor, Management Face Battle on Steel Wages

By SAM DAWSON

New York, March 22 (AP)—With one great labor-management struggle over today another one—potentially even greater—is beginning to take shape.

Westinghouse workers are going back to work. And Westinghouse salesmen are going out in search of business to help recoup some of the loss.

But in the basic steel industry both management and labor are warming up vocally and starting to woo public opinion for the contract negotiations that will begin shortly.

MANAGEMENT sees further wage increases as inflationary for the economy as a whole. The union thinks the wage scale can be raised and the steel companies still make money.

It's for Westinghouse and the Electrical Workers Union to evaluate how much was gained or lost by the bitter 156-day strike. The company reports it operated at a loss in the fourth quarter of last year, and the loss doubtless was greater in the first quarter of this year.

Products it might have shipped but didn't are estimated to total nearly 300 million dollars in billing value. Wages it could have paid but didn't are estimated to total 100 million dollars.

EVALUATING orders it might have got but didn't is harder. And it will be some time yet before it can be told how successful the company will be in its sales campaign to recapture and widen markets for its products.

A strike in the steel industry could be much more costly. Mills are now operating at capacity with order backlogs ensuring production for months ahead.

The union can point to this prosperity and also to the record earnings that many steel companies reported for 1955 in support of its expected demand for higher wages and fringe benefits, including some form of lay-off pay. The demands have been estimated by various union and management sources as ranging anywhere from 32 to 49 cents an hour.

MANAGEMENT is already putting up its own views in rebuttal. It says that good profit margins are essential if the industry is to finance a needed expansion of its facilities. And it argues that its price hikes since the war have been caused by past wage increases.

Latest out with a warning of more inflation to come if wages go higher is United States Steel. In a report to its stockholders big steel charges there are two basic roots of inflationary policy in this country since the war.

It labels the growth of industry-wide unions as one. It says the unions "strive to outdo each other in securing wage and benefit increases."

U. S. STEEL holds that the other inflationary force is the government's full employment policy. The effect as the steel company sees it is that "money supply must be inflated fast enough to accommodate the inflating employment cost, lest mounting cost bring about its natural result of pricing some people out of their jobs, even though only temporarily."

The public may feel that the arguments on both sides should be left to the union and to management and the public may recognize that each has the right to its own point of view.

What the public may worry about more is the effect for all business of a strike in the basic industry at a time when the mills are going full blast trying to catch up with demand and when the business boom gives signs of taking off on a new sprint.

AND THEN there's the question of how much higher steel prices will go if wages climb, with or without a crippling strike—and the effect of higher steel prices on the cost of goods consumers buy.

Fatal Collision

Fredonia, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Three teen-age boys were killed and a fourth injured critically today in the collision of an automobile and a New York Central freight train at a crossing here. Killed were Donald F. Carlson, 19, of Fredonia, the driver of the automobile; Philip P. Sullivan, 17, of Stockton; and Theodore G. Thorp, 19, also of Stockton. Reported in critical condition at Brooks Memorial Hospital in Dunkirk was John D. Storey, 19, of Stockton. The accident occurred at the Water street crossing of the railroad's Dunkirk & Allegany Valley Division, an all freight line running from Dunkirk through Jamestown into Pennsylvania.

Better Outlook, He Says

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 22 (AP)—Glen Alden Corp., which recently bought the Ward LaFrance Truck Corp. of Elmira, N. Y., says its 1955 sales totaled $58,700,000, compared with $73,500,000 in 1954. The company's net income, after depreciation and depletion allowances, was $154,249 or eight cents a share. In 1954 it was $181,843 or 11 cents a share. President Francis O. Case, in a letter to shareholders, said the company's decline in sales was caused primarily by its disposal of anthracite retailing subsidiaries. He said the company's outlook "is better today than it has been in years.

Passover Begins Monday, March 26

Jewish people everywhere will once more rehearse mankind's first uprising against human bondage as they celebrate the week-long festival of Passover which begins at sunset Monday, March 26.

As told in Scriptures, the origin of the Passover (Hebrew: Pesach) story centers about the demand made by Moses of Pharaoh that the Israelite slaves be set free. Never before in history had resistance against human servitude been suggested, and the Egyptian monarch spurned the words of Moses.

The Jewish holiday of Passover marks the successful outcome of the efforts of Moses. At worship services on the first and last days of the holiday, a special ritual glorifies the idea of liberty. The theme is stressed in the hymns, the prayers, and the sermons. Gifts to the poor are also part of the observance of this festival.

The chronicle of the Exodus from Egypt is also unfolded at the Seder (pronounced say-der), the festival meal which takes place on the first night of the holiday amongst Reform Jews and for the first two nights amongst traditional Jews. At the Seder, symbolic foods recall certain aspects of the Biblical story. Parsley symbolizes the arrival of Spring. Matzos, or unleavened bread, are reminders of the poor fare which slaves ate. A bitter herb is eaten to suggest the bad taste of slavery.

Orthodox Jews celebrate the holiday for eight days; Reform Jews, for seven.

Would Impeach Them

Salt Lake City, March 22 (AP)—International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers delegates met today to draw up a collective bargaining program for the year. Most contracts negotiated with mine-mill expire this summer. The union represents thousands of workers in the nonferrous metals industry. Yesterday—the third day of a five-day convention—the union passed a resolution calling for impeachment of senator and congressmen who oppose the desegregation decision of the Supreme Court. The resolution said "Democratic Sen. Eastland of Mississippi and other legislators who call for nullification of the Supreme Court's decision by organizing hate groups such as the White Citizens' Council should be disciplined by the institution of impeachment proceedings."

Spanish for Mexico

Mexico City (AP)—The government is studying plans to teach Spanish to 3,000,000 Mexican Indians who apparently don't realize Spain moved in on Mexico four centuries ago. An estimated 3,000,000 Indians still speak one of 55 native dialects and don't know a word of Spanish, Mexico's national tongue. Most of them live in the southern jungles of Mexico's tropics.

Professor Is Missing

New York, March 22 (AP)—The Inter-American Press Assn. has asked a federal probe into the disappearance of Columbia University Assistant Professor Jesus de Galindez, reportedly about to publish a book about the Dominican Republic. De Galindez, 12, Spanish-born, left Spain about the time of the Falangist revolution in 1937. He lived in the Dominican Republic before coming to the U. S. seven years ago. He has taught international law at Columbia and has been a contributor to "El Diario de Nueva York," a Spanish language newspaper here. De Galindez has failed to meet his classes since March 12 and has been missing from his apartment. Although no sign of foul play was found in his apartment, police issued a 13-state alarm for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattia, who reside on the Saugerties road, have just returned after a vacation at Clearwater, Fla.

While in Florida Mr. Mattia was invited to act as hair style consultant at the beauty salon of the Belleview Biltmore Hotel in Belaire, Fla., patronized by many nationally prominent women.

The local salon now has all the latest in up-to-date and sanitary equipment, it is reported, making it one of the most modern in the area.

Taipei, Formosa, March 22 (AP)—Two Nationalist Chinese warships blew up an armed Communist junk with shellfire in Formosa Strait last night, the Defense Ministry announced. The junk's crew was reported to have suffered heavy losses, but four survivors were captured. The ministry said the warships, which encountered the junk in Formosa strait two miles from the tiny Wuchiu islands, suffered no damage or casualties.

Atchison, Kan. (AP)—Atchison's police chief Guss Wood is satisfied that motorists are tamed more readily with honey than with vinegar. For some months, the department has issued courtesy tickets under a new policy. Of 375 handed out, Wood reported, only five recipients proved repeat violators, and of that number only two were cited for the same offense a second time.

EXPERIENCE
..is the best teacher

Her First Driving Lesson

Watching Gramp' and Dad drive the car so often gave Sis the idea she knew what it was all about . . . until she took the wheel for the first time. Then she learned about coordinating mind and muscle and observing cars, courtesy and common sense. Experience taught her there's often more than meets the eye.

In certain foods, too, experience is the best teacher. Looking at a can of Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans on the store shelf will never reveal their true goodness or prove to you how deliciously different old-fashioned, home-baked beans really are. Try Grandma Brown's Beans and enjoy a revealing, rewarding experience in canned beans. Really wonderful!

Buy 'em in the familiar brown-and-yellow can, or heat and serve 'em right in the convenient casserole can. Real home-baked beans in cans!

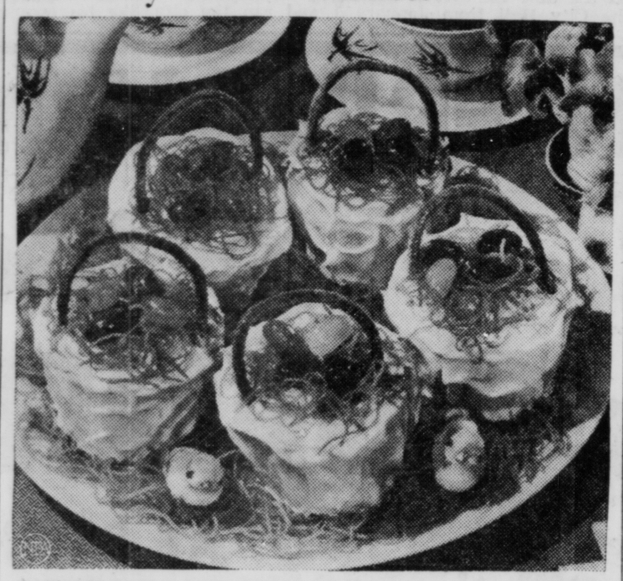
Turn Frosted Cupcakes Into Gay Easter Baskets



GAY, COLORFUL Easter baskets, just right to decorate the festive table, can be made with cupcakes as their bases.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Gay, springlike, and a decoration for the Easter table, these cupcake baskets are a tradition in many families. Children love them.

They are made from chocolate-flavored cupcakes, which are covered with fluffy white frosting. Shredded coconut, tinted green, is used for the "nest"; varicolored jelly beans are the miniature eggs. Only the basket handle is inedible—it is a pipe cleaner.

Easter Baskets
(Makes about 2 dozen "baskets")

Two cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon soda, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, milk (see below for amount), 1 teaspoon vanilla.

With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening, use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; blend. Spoon batter into paper baking cups, set in muffin pans, filling only half full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until done. Cool. Frost with fluffy white frosting. Sprinkle top of cakes with shredded coconut, tinted green. Place jelly beans in center of each "basket." Use a pipe cleaner for the handle, inserting each end into the cupcake.

Tinted Coconut

To tint coconut, place coconut in a glass jar. (Do not fill jar more than ½ full). Dilute a few drops coloring in 1 teaspoon of water or milk, and sprinkle over coconut. Cover jar and shake vigorously until coloring is evenly distributed and desired shade is obtained.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato jjuice, salmon souffle, paprika creamed horseradish sauce, parsley potatoes, green beans with almonds, crisp bread or rolls, butter or margarine, fruit bowl, frosted cupcakes, coffee, tea, milk.

Modena

Modena, March 21—The series of sermons, during the Lenten season, based on the theme "A New Man In Christ" will be concluded on Sunday, March 25, in the Modena Methodist Church when the pastor, the Rev. John E. Swords will preach on "In Christ, God Makes Us Whole." During Holy Week, congregations of Protestant churches in this area, including New Paltz, Gardiner, Clintondale and Modena, will unite in holding services in the respective churches. The sacrament of Holy Communion was administered on Sunday, March 18 at the local churches, with the Rev. Mr. Swords in charge.

Excellent attendance was made at the advance meeting held in the interest of the annual Cancer Crusade at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lillian Courter is chairman of the campaign, which opens in April in the Town of Plattekill. Representatives from various town organizations were present.

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Modena Methodist Church held their March meeting at the home of Muriel Ward with devotions and programs in charge of Ethel Hyatt. Cecelia Tice, president of the organization, conducted the business meeting when further discussion was made relative to a planned working project; Marian Jensen was appointed to represent the guild and all committee meetings and Ethel Hyatt was named to contact church families in the Blood Bank program. The April meeting will be held at the home of Ethel Hyatt, with Cecelia Tice in charge of devotions and program.

Mrs. Simon DuBois, Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mrs. Eldred Smith and Mrs. Frank McCoy attended the first lesson in the advanced nursing course held Tuesday evening at the Plattekill School. Mrs. William Gilmore, RN, of Ardonia, instructed the class. Similar classes will be conducted at regular intervals.

Ronald and Stanley Cohn, Roger West, Robert Pink, Jay Marquard, Wayne and Larre Smith have signed with the New Paltz Little League baseball team, for the coming season.

Mrs. Frank E. Crawford, Miss Edna Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford and sons, Charles and David of Chelsea, were recent visitors of Miss Glennie M. Wager.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arnold are the parents of a daughter, Laura Ann, born Wednesday, March 7. The Arnolds are former residents of Modena, returning last summer from the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, where they were missionaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Juckett of New Paltz, accompanied by Miss Glennie M. Wager of this place, visited Mr. and Mrs. Vernard B. Wager in Plattekill on Thursday.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Let's sit back and relax and remember the good old days, of say January 1924 when the budget was adopted and the tax rate was only $37.14 per $1,000. Even then the people wanted to know what it was for. The biggest item was $55,000 for repairing Wilbur and other streets. The aldermen also added $10,573.25 to the Board of Public Works appropriation for a new White truck, and increasing the amount of snow removal from $5,000 to $10,000. Other items added to the budget for proposed improvements were $4,000 for a new concrete floor in the Central Fire Station, as the present one was unsafe, $1,000 was to cover cost of a police gymnasium and $1,200 to cover interest on bonds. The meeting covering the budget proceeded smoothly, and budget was adopted unanimously. "Mayor Block, both in his annual message and at his sessions, with the Board of Public Works and the Common Council, made it plain that any contemplated improvements must be paid for, as he was opposed to any new bond issues, and that the various boards and departments of the city would be expected not to exceed their appropriations for the year."

The following from Mayor Block's annual message I think, holds true today. "It is absolutely necessary, in order to keep down our tax rate, to stimulate building. Of course, people will not build unless, by so doing, they can forsee, profit for themselves or can secure a home that will not be too costly to maintain. A greater amount of taxable property means we can raise more money with the same tax rate. This city has, from time to time, considerable vacant land, carried along on its tax rolls, in the name of the city, which is no source of revenue to the city. This is land, that at various times, has been bought in by the city, at sales for unpaid taxes."

Mayor Block went on to say further: "In the city of Cohoes, the experiment has been successfully tried of offering these lots at public auction regardless of the price they would bring, but with the stipulation upon the part of the purchaser to erect a building of an agreed value upon the land within a specified time. The purchase price would be merely nominal. The result would be just so much additional property subject to taxation." Mayor Block, also went into detail as to the heating expenses of local buildings, such as the City Hall, schools, fire houses, etc. There was some new idea out at the time, in which a change of grates, with a blower system, and a cheap coal of $4 a ton could be used to bring down the cost of heating in the City Hall. At the time the cost of heating the City Hall from January 1 to December 1 was, $1,551 with 139 tons of coal used.

It is interesting to read and compare events and costs over a period of a quarter of a century. Mayor Morris Block was one of our Rondout boys and ran the city like his own business. He meant it to show a profit and still give full services to its customers. Mayor Block was first elected 1902-05 then again 1923, serving until 1925 when he died in office. I take it, he served without salary, as $5,000 per year salary became effective January 1, 1928. That is a question that has been asked me time and time again. Alderman-at-Large E. J. Dempsey automatically filled out unexpired term of Mayor Block, and Dempsey was elected the next year as mayor of Kingston.

South makes six spades in today's hand. He takes the first trick with dummy's ace of clubs, draws three rounds of trumps, and runs the hearts. This enables him to discard two clubs. Now he ruffs a club and leads a diamond towards dummy's king. West has the ace of diamonds, and 12 tricks are there for the taking.

Should South find fault with the bidding because this slam was missed? Not at all. This was a normal game contract, but it would have been an inferior slam contract.

You are willing to be in a slam contract if you have an even chance to make it. You prefer a better chance. Hence you are ready to look for an error if you miss a slam for which you had better than an even chance; but you shed no tears over the missed slams for which you had less than an even chance.

What is your chance for slam in the hand shown today? You need a 3-2 trump break and you must find the ace of diamonds in the West hand. The combination gives you about one chance in three to make the slam.

It isn't necessary (although it is helpful) to work out the accurate odds. A finesse is an even chance. You would have that even chance if you needed only to find the ace of diamonds in the West hand. Since you also need some additional break (the 3-2 trump division), you must have less than an even chance. Hence the slam is not a good gamble.

TV Education

East Lansing, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State University, originator of Michigan's first educational television station, is conducting experiments with closed-circuit TV as a teaching medium. Nearly 500 students, most of them in science courses, attend class at least part of the time by sitting before a TV monitor in classrooms while an instructor presents their study material in the building's auditorium.

Atomic Attack WouldHarmFood, Water, Heating

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele predicted today a widespread atomic attack on this country would cause a "serious breakdown" of food, water and heating facilities and the hazard of an epidemic.

Such chaos must be expected "in addition to the direct casualty effects of modern weapons," Scheele said in remarks prepared for a House Government Operations Subcommittee studying civil defense.

HOWEVER, Shelbey T. Grey, program planning director for the Food and Drug Administration, said some tests showed that some 40 drugs "critically exposed" to atomic blasts "fared very well." Because of this, he said, "there is no question that all drugs in fringe areas would also be safe for immediate use."

From a still-secret study on foods, Grey added in a statement, "It may be concluded that foods exposed critically in the bull's eye area could be made available under so-called 'disaster standards' if recovered physically intact.

"IN FRINGE areas where radioactivity would be ruled out, there would be no question that immediate use could be made of all physically intact foods."

Scheele said a widespread atomic attack would cause "a serious breakdown of our modern heating, water supply, waste disposal, refrigeration and other food protection facilities."

"There will be dislocation and movement of large segments of the population," he added, "and consequent lowering of living standards, creation of abnormal epidemic hazards and a requirement for post-attack health service for great numbers of people."

Scheele said the Public Health Service now has 10,000 hospital beds, 1,400 physicians, 300 dentists, 300 sanitary engineers and 1,000 nurses as its "basic machinery" available for national health needs in time of attack.

"Naturally, it will require much augmentation in personnel and facilities," he said.

Reversed Sign

Quincy, Ill. (AP)—During a meeting of the city council, Alderman Richard Peters commented that the street and bridge department had done a fine job of repainting stop signs. "But I wish they would work again on the one at the southeast corner of Eleventh and State. They put it back upside down," he said.

Governors of 19 states serve two-year terms and 29 have four years in office.

MAY QUEEN SELECTED—Dolores LaTorre, front row, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick LaTorre of 42 Post street, was selected May Queen at a senior class meeting held recently and will reign at the Kingston High School May Day festivities. Shokan

Shokan, March 21—Leonard Ruckert writes from his winter home in Miami, Fla., that while riding out recently he stopped for a traffic light and was pleasantly surprised to see several acquaintances from the Kingston area in the car along side of him. Inga Olsen of Brooklyn is spending two weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Baker, two of the county's foremost collectors of old and rare books, were callers here Sunday.

Harrison Gridley, widely know school teacher and antiques collector of Shady was a Shokan caller the latter part of the week.

Cornwall Longyear, Phoenicia native who with his wife, the former Evelyn Wands of Shokan, moved from Hilburn to New Mexico many years ago, observed his 76th birthday, Tuesday, March 13 at the couple's home in Albuquerque, N. M.

Some States to Extend Daylight Saving Time

New York, March 22 (AP)—Daylight Saving Time will be observed in all or parts of 19 states and the District of Columbia this year.

A survey showed today that some states have extended it to late October.

Mostly, Daylight Time will start at 2 a. m., April 29, the last Sunday of the month.

In those areas which have extended it, clocks will be set back to Standard Time at 2 a. m., Oct. 28. Otherwise, it ends at 2 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 30.

DAYLIGHT Saving Time got its big push in World War 1 when it was used to save power. But lots of people got to like the extra hour of sunshine in the garden, at the beach, on the golf course or tennis court or in the front porch rocker.

Some organized recreation interests apparently don't. A bill to approve "fast time" was introduced in Utah's 1955 Legislature. The House passed it but the Senate killed it. Outdoor movie, night baseball and labor interests opposed it.

Farmers don't like it either. They can't get into the fields before the dew dries anyhow and it doesn't hurry up the livestock for feeding.

Daylight time makes for some confusion. The cross-country railroads generally follow standard time. Commuter lines observe local time. The airlines generally just list arrivals and departures by local time.

IT ALSO gives radio and television networks a hard time in programming, but they solve the problem.

Anyhow, this year "fast time" will be observed in whole or in part of California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

In Missouri, only St. Louis will observe it. In New Mexico the atomic city of Los Alamos will be the sole observer.

HERE IS the "fast time" situation where it is observed wholly or partly:

California—April 29 to Sept. 30.

Connecticut—April 29-Oct. 28.

Illinois — Chicago and other large Illinois cities will observe it from April 29-Oct. 28. Some other cities will end it Sept. 30. Some smaller towns and villages ignore it entirely.

Indiana—Eastern third of Indiana plus Indianapolis area remain on Standard Time by local option. New Indiana, Gary and South Bend follow Chicago. LaFayette and Logansport move to daylight time April 2, Kokomo March 25. Southwest Indiana is undecided, except for Vincenes which switches April 29. Evansville votes on the matter at a primary May 8. There will be statewide referendum on the subject at the Nov. 6 election. The decision will be only advisory but the 1957 legislature is likely to head it.

Kentucky—Lexington and few others start April 29.

Maine—April 29-Oct. 28.

Maryland—Entire state except for few rural areas, April 29-Sept. 30.

Massachusetts — April 29-Oct. 28.

Missouri—St. Louis only, April 29-Sept. 30.

Nevada—April 29-Sept. 30.

New Hampshire — April 29-Oct. 28.

New Jersey—April 29-Oct. 28. A bill to begin it the first Sunday in April has been passed by the assembly and is now in the Senate. It is expected to die since New York defeated a similar bill earlier this year.

New Mexico — Los Alamos only, April 29-Oct. 30.

New York—April 29-Oct. 30.

Ohio—Will be observed in an area northeast of a line running from Lorain to East Liverpool, April 29—Sept. 30. Major cities and towns which will observe it include Cleveland, Youngstown, Akron, Canton, Massillon, Steubenville, Alliance, Ashtabula, Elyria, Lakewood, Warren and Salem.

Pennsylvania — April 29-Oct. 30 generally although Harrisburg voted to end it Sept. 30.

Rhode Island—April 29, Oct. 30.

Virginia—Suburbs of Washington, D. C., April 29-Oct. 30.

Washington, D. C.—April 29-Oct. 30.

visional appointment as maintenance man in the public works department, and three others who had served probationary periods as working foremen were appointed permanently.

THE THREE are Edward P. Tuey, of 39 Garden street; Emerson L. Mayes, of 117 Clinton avenue, and Ellwood I. Finkle, who lives at the YMCA.

On recommendations of City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan the board voted to pay contractor James Berardi $11,474.26 for work done on the sewer project between Delaware avenue and East Chester street on Broadway, and $3,020.64 to V. J. Costanzi for similar work on Hope street, Ring Top road, and Pearl street.

A NOTICE from the Common Council's traffic committee informed the board that the committee, at a recent meeting, had favored installing a reflecting type sign reading "Slippery When Wet—Proceed With Caution," at Broadway and West Chestnut street.

The committee also said it had approved establishing for trial on Pine Grove avenue from the Holy Cross Church to Mary's avenue, a two-hour parking zone during working hours. It also asked to have erected signs for two-hour parking zones established by legislation in December on West O'Reilly street and West Chester street.

000, a boost of $83,000, assuming that the average conditions apply locally.

The Postmaster General bases his request for the rate rise on the mounting scale of postal deficits. Although the business he heads is one of the largest in the world, it is in financial trouble. It loses about $500 million a year. The only profitable segments of its operations are the first class mail, post office box rentals and the postal savings system.

Opposition to the boost in mail rates comes from those who argue that the postal service is for the benefit of the public and is therefore a legitimate charge to general revenues.

The proponents hold that it is a purely business operation and should, as such, stand on its own financial feet.

Six Are Killed In Crash of B25

Waco, Tex., March 22 (AP)—A B25 missing overnight from Connally Air Force Base was found wrecked in a pasture about 50 miles south-southeast of here this morning. Highway patrolmen at the scene said the six men aboard were killed.

An air-sea rescue plane operating from search headquarters here radioed it sighted the wreckage near Hearne, Tex.

At Hearne, farmer G. D. Russell told Highway Patrolman Floyd Tippitt he found wreckage strewn over 400 yards of his pasture.

LAST RADIO contact with the plane, which was on a training mission over central Texas, was at 11:05 p. m CST last night when it reported it was over Gatesville, Tex. There was no indication of trouble then. The plane had fuel enough to keep it in the air until 2:30 a. m. today.

There was a possibility turbulent weather figured in the crash. Winds with gusts to 35 miles an hour and some tornadoes lashed through central Texas last night.

ganization (SEATO) "is growing in vigor."

SEATO and "our other security arrangements," Dulles declared, "are providing a shield against armed aggression behind which independence and economic and social welfare" are developing in free Asia.

Dulles plans to review his Asian trip in a broadcast talk tomorrow night (10:30 p. m.).

BETWEEN NOW and Monday he and President Eisenhower will make final preparations for a meeting at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., beginning Monday night with President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines of Mexico and Prime Minister Louis S. Laurent of Canada.

Reports from Dulles' Asian tour indicated he remains convinced that the administration's proposal for limited long-range foreign aid authority is important to the success of the American aim of keeping the Asian countries outside the Communist orbit.

THIS LONG-RANGE aid proposal has encountered considerable congressional opposition, although it did not figure importantly in yesterday's hearing on the program by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Gordon Gray endorsed as important to this nation's own defense effort the three billion dollars in new military aid money Eisenhower is requesting.

THIS IS THE biggest part of Eisenhower's fiscal 1957 foreign aid program of nearly five billion dollars—$2,200,000,000 more than Congress appropriated last year.

Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) told Gray it is hard to explain why U. S. military aid should go to countries which devote a smaller proportion of national income to defense than does the United States.

He and Gray agreed the answer is that it is more difficult for countries with lower incomes than the United States to spare as high a proportion of their money for arms.

Gray himself mentioned what he termed "the slowness with which the German rearmament effort has proceeded." he did not explain further.

Ceremonies Held For West Hurley Library Opening

The new West Hurley Library was officially opened at a ceremony at West Hurley School Tuesday evening.

Invocation was given by the Rev. John J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. John's Church of Stony Hollow.

Rudolph Steiner, chairman of the West Hurley Library committee welcomed the guests and expressed his appreciation for books donated and help received from the people of the community, the Woodstock, Kingston and Lynbrook, L. I., libraries. He mentioned the fair held last summer to help raise funds. Charter memberships for a nominal fee will be accepted until April 1. He also said the library would be open Monday and Thursday from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Reginald Bennett, district superintendent of schools, was introduced by Mr. Steiner.

BENNETT SAID it was a wonderful thing for a school, particularly a small school to have a library of this kind and that children like to read if given the opportunity. Boys and girls of the West Hurley area now have that opportunity. He also reviewed briefly the local school situation.

Captain Andrew S. Hickey, USN, retired, president of the Kingston Library Association, and author of "History of Kingston" reviewed the history of the Kingston Library, remarking that his first association with the library was as an assistant librarian receiving the sum of 10 cents a day. He recounted the growth of the Kingston Library from that time to the present, describing the layout of the library, the number of books and the method by which new books are selected.

HE EMPHASIED that the decimal system of cataloging and a card index were essential if library facilities are to be utilized to the fullest extent.

Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburgh, who read the names of the library committee and commended the work they had done asked for support of the library fair to be held this summer and asked that parents encourage their children to become interested in the library. He stated that the West Hurley board of education would give all the help and support it could.

An inspection of the library followed and refreshments were served by members of the committee.

Closed TV Reaches 3,000 G-U Managers

East Paterson, N. J., March 21—In a closed circuit television meeting today, the Grand Union Company staged a one hour meeting between Headquarters Executives and the food chain's 3,000 store and department managers, simultaneously meeting in New York, Washington, D. C., Syracuse and Albany, New York.

The hour show starring Tex and Jinx McCrary took place during Grand Union's annual one day Divisional Sales Meetings. Grand Union is believed to be among the first of retail groups to use closed circuit television in this fashion.

The food chain managers heard Grand Union's President Lansing P. Shield, outline a four-point program stressing the importance of the managers to Grand Union and to their local communities.

"We believe that Grand Union managers are important people in their own local communities. Every manager is encouraged to be a good citizen by taking an active part in his community's local affairs."

"We believe that Grand Union managers have the opportunity not only to advance in their jobs, and not only to earn more money for their families, but the opportunity to make the very most of their own abilities."

During an open question period following an address recently given by Helen Keller, deaf and blind since nineteen months of age, someone in the large audience asked Miss Keller if she could have granted to her one wish, what would that wish be?

The audience awaited her reply with breathless expectancy. Would this gifted woman of difficult speech ask for persuasive eloquence? From the depths of her long night of darkness, would she ask for seeing eyes with which to look upon the beauties of creation? Or would she ask for hearing ears, that she might listen to the anthems of birdland?

Came then the answer: "If I could have granted but one request, I would ask that we might have world peace!"

Saugerties Area Merchants Want Appreciation Day

The Saugerties Merchants Appreciation Day program was given a resounding vote of confidence Wednesday by an overwhelming majority of the participating merchants present at the regular monthly meeting of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce held in the Exempt's rooms of Saugerties Municipal building.

Participating merchants of the Chamber sponsored program were invited to attend the regular Chamber meeting to discuss ways and means of improving the program and increasing membership to the program.

FOLLOWING an hour and a half discussion on the subject a motion was approved to continue the program and a new committee was formed with instructions to promote the event embodying some of the recommendations made at the discussion period.

The new Appreciation Day committee consists of Arthur London, Franklyn Clum Jr., Norman Reamer and John Offermann. The committee was instructed to present a more interesting program each Friday night and to work out some policy formula to permit new members into the program.

President Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., who presided announced that Miss Saugerties 1956 Ball would be held Tuesday, May 29. The Committee on arrangements and selection will include Mrs. Marzell Roming, John Offermann and John C. Sauer.

James R. Daburko, representing Koontz Equipment Corp., of Pittsburgh, manufacturers of parking meters, spoke to the meeting on a plan which would offer free parking to patrons of stores participating in the project. A system of giving tokens would be inaugurated.

ACCORDING TO the proposed plan the village would purchase a quantity of the tokens and could sell them to the participating merchants for five cents each. The merchants could then pass them out to their patrons permitting the customer free parking. The meters would be rigged to accept the tokens as well as nickles, dimes and quarters. The tokens would have a Saugerties slogan and the name of the village on its face.

Mr. Daburko said he had presented the project to the village earlier in the evening for use in the new parking field at Partition street now under construction. It was pointed out that the token system could only be used on the type meters which would be installed in the new parking field and would encourage parking in the new field and alleviate congestion on the village streets. The membership approved a motion to go on record favoring such a token system and the representative to the village board would forward the chamber's recommendation that the board accept the token system project.

In order to add impetus to the project the chamber voted to purchase the initial lot of tokens should the village board approve the recommendation.

The chamber approved a recommendation of the board of directors to again sponsor the Saugerties trotting event at Saratoga Raceway on August 22. The chamber will furnish a trophy which will be presented to the winner of the race by Miss Saugerties of 1956.

Vice President Arthur H. London, chairman of the membership and dues committee, reported that an index file of all businesses in the Saugerties area had been compiled by the committee and that letters would be drafted and sent to all on the list except existing members. The letters would solicit cooperation and new members.

Profitable Land Program

Ithaca, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—"Wise and sound uses" are being made of Broome county land classified as "low income for full time commercial farming," the county's assistant agricultural agent said today. James E. Lawrence said that, with the aid of an extension service program about a year ago, about 60 per cent of the county's land classified as secondary for farming is being purchased for other uses. These include reforestation, Christmas tree farming, gardening, woodlot improvement and recreation, Lawrence said. His talk was prepared for delivery to a Cornell Farm and Home Week audience.

Urges Vaccine Under 40

Ithaca, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—All persons under 40 should be vaccinated against polio when sufficient supplies of Salk vaccine are available, Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, first deputy commissioner of the New York State Department of Health, said here today. "There are two reasons for this recommendation," he said. "One, the risk to the individual of dying or of being severely crippled from poliomyelitis is practically uniform up to 20 years of age and only slowly diminishes thereafter. "And two, the frequency of death or of being severely crippled among persons over the age of 20 is increasing year by year." The vaccine is being distributed as rapidly as it is received, Dr. Ingraham told a Farm and Home Week audience, but no information is available as to when supply will equal demand.

If you think things are messed up on our highways now, just wait another 10 years! That's the word from the National Safety Council, extremely concerned at the inseparably interwoven problems of traffic congestion and highway accidents. As a dramatic warning of what could occur, the Council took the present statistics on highway crowding and fatalities and projected them into 1966. The exclusive Newschart above depicts the frightening future unless the prevailing death rate is reduced by a specific safety campaign—recommended by the Council—that will have more effect on drivers than anything thought up so far.

TOO MUCH COLOGNE IN OFFICE

An unpleasant office situation is described in the following letter: "We have a new typist in our office who sits close to me and who uses a very spicy cologne. The odor of this cologne makes me so sick that by the end of the morning I am ill enough to go home. Perhaps I have no right to object, but it really is affecting my work. Is there anything I can do about this?"

You can take it up with your personnel director or your employer. If the office is a big one, perhaps you could have your desk changed.

Concerning Introductions

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told that it is never proper to introduce anyone as "my friend." The reason given for this was that by calling one person a friend it implies that the other is not. Will you please tell me if this is correct?'

Answer: What you were told is quite true, and when introducing one young friend to another young friend you would say, "Mary Smith — John Jones." When introducing a friend to a near relative, you might say, "This is my friend Mary."

Thanks for Shower Gifts

Dear Mrs. Post: Three weeks ago I was invited to a shower for a friend of mine. Up to the present time I have not received a thank-you note for my present. In mentioning this to another friend, I was told that it is not necessary to send thank-you notes for shower presents. Is this true?

Answer: At showers, it is customary to open the presents and thank each giver verbally as her gift is unwrapped and admired. No further written thanks are necessary. Notes must be written to those who sent presents but who could not come to the party.

Student Nurses Are Capped at Exercises In Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing

A class of 21 student nurses were capped by the senior students during an impressive capping ceremony held in Our Lady of Victory Chapel of the Benedictine Hospital Sunday, March 18.

The Rev. J. Edwin Kelsch, CSsR, addressed the class. For his text he chose "Put ye on the helmet of salvation and the sword of the spirit which is the word of God," from St. Paul to the Ephesians.

Father Kelsch stressed the material and spiritual significance of the uniform, particularly the fact that all wearing uniforms are to be imbued with the spirit of sacrifice in the line of duty.

"Nurses are to follow in the footsteps of the Blessed Mother seeing in all their suffering patients, Christ Himself," he said.

The exercises concluded with a Benediction service and the student choir, directed by Sister Evelyn, sang several hymns.

A tea was held in the nurses' dining room following the ceremony for relatives and friends of the students.

Bolivia Army Officers Are Griping About Low Morale

By JULIUS GOLDEN

La Paz, Bolivia, March 22 (AP)—Bolivia's poorly paid and equipped 3,000-man army is in a ferment. Some officers are talking about telling the troops to go home and forget about army life.

The officers deny a revolution against the government is in the making. But they want action to boost morale and stiffen the ranks. For decades the army was the principal breeder of revolutions in Bolivia, and the government of President Victor Paz Estenssoro has been favoring a militia over the army.

THINGS BEGAN coming to a head after a group of tin miners raided the army headquarters at Challapata last month and made off with small arms and ammunition. The handful of soldiers offered no resistance. This hurt the officers' pride, especially when they heard the miners claimed they intended to put down a revolution.

"Army officers are loyal and intend to support the government," one captain said. "We want to stay out of politics, but we must have guarantees against any raids against us. Not even a pay raise is as important as this."

Another garrison smarting under the blow to army pride sent a petition to the government demanding punishment of the miners. The petition said that if the miners went unpunished, officers in the army would resign. A third garrison backed up this stand but said the officers should not resign.

THE PETITIONS led to a demand for increases in army wages. President Paz Estenssoro promised they would be granted but he did not say when. The pay now ranges from 32,000 Bolivinos (about $170 at the official rate) a month for the lieutenant to 70,000 Bolivianos (about $370 at the official rate) for a general.

The officers have other gripes. They have scheduled a meeting for next month to thresh over the whole situation. For one thing, some sources say a number of officers want the army chief of staff, Gen. Armando Fortun, removed. They say he doesn't have the necessary prestige.

The miners' raid also created a political problem for this landlocked nation of four million. The miners are members of the Bolivian Labor Confederation—the most powerful single group in the country. It seems certain the government will not act against the miners unless the confederation gives it the go-ahead.

Vice President Hernan Siles Zuazo told reporters the confederation leader, Juan Lechin, had agreed to some penalty. There has been no indication what form the punishment would take.

The army has been way down since 1952, when it fought unsuccessfully against revolutionaries. The army was disbanded for a short time after the revolution. Later it was reorganized with new officers.

Business Must Watch

St. Louis, March 22 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks says the nation's economy is healthy, but business must keep a close eye on pricing policies and too-easy installment credit practices. "I don't think management should get all the traffic will bear; I think it should be temperate in pricing policies," Weeks said last night in a speech at the annual St. Louis Chamber of Commerce dinner. "Inflation is a disease easy to acquire and hard to cure," Weeks said. "Too many businessmen are a bit soft on inflation. It's the kind of disease that has some attractive features, but it's no good."

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

By the Associated Press

Some food stores, already angling for the Easter trade, are offering two popular holiday meats — turkey and ham — at special prices this weekend.

One big chain is bringing oven-ready turkeys down to 53 cents a pound and plans to keep the birds on sale at that price through next week. Chickens are also offered as weekend specials in many stores.

HAM WILL BE seen less frequently as a special this weekend but here and there stores are attracting attention by offering it a week ahead of the Easter feast.

Pork, which has been the mainstay of the low-priced meat market in recent months, moved a little higher this week. It is still generally a good buy, however, and some cuts are still featured at special prices throughout the country. Wholesale hog prices this week are a little higher.

LAMB CUTS are a shade higher on some wholesale markets, but so far there has been little increase in the retail level, much to the satisfaction of housewives who find it a springtime favorite.

Except for southern growing areas, most of the country is still dependent on shipped produce when it comes to fresh vegetables. In this category only onions are listed as an outstanding buy as the tag end of winter yields to the start of spring.

"GOOD" BUYS include escarole and endive, beans, cabbage, carrots, pascal celery, and potatoes.

In the northeastern states, shoppers may notice some irregularity in the condition of leafy vegetables, caused principally by shipping delays in snow storms that buried the area early in the week.

Plattekill

March 30 Deadline For Blood Filing

Plattekill, March 22—In the Plattekill Area Blood Assurance program of southern Ulster county, co-chairmen Mrs. Beulah Merwin and Mrs. Albina S. Orlowski announced that all families not participating through enrollment of organization, place of business or church group in Cronomer Valley, Savilton, Plattekill, Leptondale, Modena, Ardonia and Clintondale areas must enroll by March 30, the deadline for the return of all applications.

One donor from a family assures all members of his immediate family four pints of blood for one year. Benefits are good and guaranteed in any hospital in the United States.

Families interested in participating in the new two-year old New York state blood civilian program are asked to contact Mrs. Merwin, King's View road or Mrs. Orlowski, Mill road, Plattekill.

Monday, April 2, from 3-7 p. m. the Bloodmobile Unit will service the southern section of Ulster county in the Plattekill Grange building on old Route 32.

Cost Accountants To Hear Address Of Rawn Brinkley

Guest speaker at a special informal session of the Mid-Hudson chapter of National Association of Cost Accountants to be held Tuesday will be Rawn Brinkley, assistant secretary of Headquarters Staff of the National Association.

According to the announcement by G. Van Vlack, publicity director of the chapter, the meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

FOR THE FIRST time in the history of the chapter, new members will be given the opportunity to meet the officers and directors of the chapter and may learn directly from them, by means of short informal talks, the aims, purposes and activities of the chapter and the advantages and benefits membership makes available.

Mr. Brinkley will impart from his experience in chapter relations any vital and supplemental information that should be directed to the attention of the members. He became associated with the NACA in 1938 and has been a member of several chapters. He was vice president of Elmira Area chapter and later was active in the formation of the East Tennessee chapter where he was elected its charter president.

Since receiving his BS degree at Harvard University in 1931, he has been associated with IBM, Corning Glass Works in various accounting capacities and Blue Ridge Glass Corporation, a Corning affiliate, where he was chief cost accoutant.

AT THE DINNER meeting Monday at Nelson House the group heard J. A. McFadden, controller of RCA Laboratories, Princeton, N. J. discuss accounting for industrial research.

In his address he traced the growth in numbers of industrial research laboratories from about 300 in 1933 to about 5,000 at present and how research has become one of the important divisions in the large corporations.

A pertinent point stressed by Mr. McFadden was the different accounting pattern followed when dealing with research work and researchers and the importance of keeping scientists and engineers at their technological work and prevent burdening them with the keeping of cost records.

Mr. McFadden also discussed the subject of patents and their part in costs in research accounting.

President B. Burt Titus announced that the next technical session of the chapter will be held Monday, April 16 at Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

Lions' Show Is

Home Show during the first two nights. This average is expected to greatly increase during the next three nights. The record of 15,000 should be exceeded this year, the ninth in which the Kingston Lions Club has undertaken its ambitious and brilliant show.

VISITORS WERE "highly pleased" with the varied and interesting exhibits—some 60 odd—many of which are devoted to domestic displays of interest to the distaff side of the family.

A display of Necchi Sewing Machines by Arace Appliances, a kind of "trick machine" which can produce the most unusual effects, attracted considerable interest last night, as did the Goshen Harness and Saddle Co. exhibit on horsemanship.

Kingston's two Savings and Loan Associations drew considerable comment for their booth celebrating the 150th anniversary of the savings institution. Visitors were served with cake from a huge birthday cake cut into 150 pieces, one for each year.

ALSO of interest was a handsome 20-foot cruiser displayed by Ben Rhymer and an exhibit of smaller type of outboard craft by Montgomery Ward, a type becoming very prominent among sporting groups.

The Lions blind booth offered cursory eye examinations to visitors but without diagnosis. Pledges were also taken for donation of eyes for use in corneal transplants.

The "pillar of light," a mobile searchlight visible for 35 miles, still drew comment from the mdi-Hudson area. The light is rotated as a beacon signaling the Exposition to the country-side.

The pelican derives its name from the Greek. It has a huge beak, shaped like a great Greek pelekus, an ax.

Says Farm Bill Must Have High Level Supports

Washington, March 22 (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) said today Democrats in Congress will insist upon high level price supports in the farm bill despite hints of a veto by President Eisenhower.

Johnson predicted, after talking with House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) that a Senate-House conference group, named to adjust differences on farm legislation, will recommend high level supports.

"I PREDICT that the revolt farmers put on in Minnesota is going to extend to every other farm state," Johnson said in an interview. He referred to the big Democratic vote in Tuesday's Minnesota primary.

Reminded President Eisenhower has indicated he will veto the bill as it passed the Senate, Johnson said:

"That's the President's responsibility and as far as I am concerned he can exercise it without threats from Congress."

THE SENATE version of farm legislation calls for price support levels at a higher rate than those contained in the House bill, which comes much closer to administration proposals.

On the House side, Rep. Cooley (D-N. C.) said a compromise farm bill may be ready for final action shortly after Congress returns from its Easter recess April 9.

Zoning Board

laws in 1928, and that any restraining action might have to come from the health board or by general city condemnation, rather than from a direct zoning board order.

ARGUMENT on the Carvel application was similar to that presented at several other hearings, which resulted in a bid for a court decision on the question. Supreme Court Justice Herbert D. Hamm, of the third judicial district, several weeks ago, without giving any final decision, indicated that the zoning board was not empowered to void Common Council action against the Carvel application, which had been done before the case went to the court.

It was indicated then that the non-conforming status of the property was a main question to be settled, and that point was stressed at last night's session. Attorney Philip J. Franklin appeared for the Carvel Corp., Sherwood E. Davis represented the protestants, and S. James Matthews appeared for Monroe T. Southard, owner of the property involved.

THOSE representing the opposition to the application were given until the next meeting to file answers. A main question involved, it was indicated, is whether the proposed new use of the property would be more hazardous, annoying or detrimental to the neighborhood than was the operation of a gasoline station.

The board indicated it will give decisions on several other applications, including one by Henry H. Paley, of 134 Clinton avenue, who seeks to use the former Jones Dairy building at 23 Shufeldt street for the bottling and processing of insect repellants and other materials.

DECISION was reserved on the complaint of the Rev. S. B. Chappell, of St. Mark's AME Zion Church, Foxhall avenue, against continued use of a billboard near his church. This, it was indicated, is also a situation which existed prior to enactment of the zoning laws in 1928.

Decisions are to be given also on the application of Dr. Elizabeth Collins for permission to build an enclosure for dogs on the former Dr. Poley property on Albany aveue, and on the application of Andrew Shrader, of Florence street, who seeks to build on an unapproved sub-division.

Other applications to be decided are by Dr. William J. Cranston who asks permission to house professional offices and apartments in his building at Clinton avenue and St. James street, and by Sam N. Mann, who asks permission to build a garage on Washington avenue closer to the street line than allowed.

HEART MEMORIAL—Mrs. George W. Crist of Wallkill presents a check of $850 to S. James Matthews, chairman of the 1956 Heart Campaign of Ulster county which represents a memorial to her husband who died Christmas Day. The memorial was established by the people of the town of Shawangunk, business associates and Iroquois Hunting and Fishing Club. (l-r) Mrs. George Geyer, Wallkill Heart chairman, town of Shawangunk; Mr. Matthews, Mrs. Christ and Fred Terwilliger of Wallkill, Heart Memorial chairman.

Heart Memorial Presents $850 To '56 Campaign

The presentation of a check of $850 to S. James Matthews, chairman of the 1956 Heart Campaign in Ulster county was the culmination of a heart memorial established by the people of the town of Shawangunk, business association and the Iroquis Hunting and Fishing Club for the late George W. Crist, prominent businessman who died Christmas Day.

For the second time in about a year, the citizens of the town of Shawangunk have shown their heartfelt sympathy to the widows of two prominent business men in the way of a memorial to the Ulster County Heart Chapter.

IN ACCEPTING the memorial, Mr. Matthews told Mrs. Crist who presented the check, the fund would be used to help continue the special heart research project now being conducted at Albany Medical Center.

THIS IS the resident teaching fellowship being conducted at the Albany Medical Center by a group of specialists in chest diseases.

Part of the funds used in this research program came during the past year from a grant of $1,000 contributed by the Ulster County Heart Chapter. In this grant was included the Titus Memorial Fund also donated by the town of Shawangunk citizens in memory of Harold Titus, another prominent Wallkill business man who died suddenly of a heart attack.

At the February meeting of the Ulster County Heart Chapter, after seeing and hearing of the work of the research team of the Medical Center, it was voted to continue the grant of this special program of heart research.

The Crist Memorial Fund with additional monies from the Heart Chapter will be forwarded to the Albany Research Committee in the very near future.

To Check 1-Way Traffic Friday

Charles J. Murphy, director of the traffic engineering department of the Automobile Club of New York, Inc., is due here tomorrow to observe the city's one-way traffic system now in effect in the uptown area, Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

The system was planned after a study by the automobile club, and is now in effect on a trial basis. It is possible that some changes might be recommended after Murphy's observations tomorrow.

Policies Must

speaker, put his foot down on this measure when he was urged to steer it to passage in the Assembly.

Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader, guided the compulsory bill to victory in the Upper House.

A bill to supplement the compulsory insurance measure was before the Senate. It would set up a fund to pay claims against uninsured out-of-state cars, hit-run cars and stolen automobiles. The fund would be built from a $1 fee assessed against every car upon it being registered each year.

IT WAS NOT certain whether this measure woud reach the Senate floor for a vote.

Meanwhile Republicans in control of the Assembly prepared to ram through a GOP program bill to cut taxes by 40 million dollars.

The Senate also was slated to complete legislative passage of bills that will increase state aid to education by $89,600,000 a year, including $57,500,000 recommended by the Heald Commission. In addition, schools will get a boost of $31,800,000 to take care of increased enrollment, making the grand total $121,400,000.

THE LEGISLATURE yesterday set final adjournment of the 1956 session for noon tomorrow. However, the session is expected actually to wind up several hours later.

The decks were cleared of hundreds of bills in a long working session yesterday.

Both houses passed a Republican program bill providing for a referendum next fall on a $500,000,000 highway bond issue, as recommended by the Heald Commission.

BUT THE GOP-controlled Legislature brushed aside the commission's proposal, endorsed by Harriman, to tie to the proposition an increase of one cent a gallon in the gasoline tax and 1½ cents in the diesel fuel levy.

In the Assembly, a bill calling for a referendum on whether public or private interests should develop the electric power potential of the Niagara river was killed through recommital "for amendments" by its sponsor, Assemblyman Ernest Curto, Niagara Falls Republican.

Senate Favors Housing

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The Senate gave initial approval today to a Republican plan to provide 100 million dollars for low-interest loans to encourage construction of middle-income housing. The bill, passed unanimously, was sent to the Assembly. Under terms of the measure, the proposal for the bond issue would be placed before the voters in November as a proposition.

Isbell says he's sending the books because he wants to make sure the brides-to-be hold their husbands. Maroon, Sawyer Cagers Duel in Kingston Cage Tournament

Stars-Vozdiks Encounter Test Of DUSO-UCAL

Poughkeepsie Trabasso Faces Hudson Quintet

Titans of the DUSO League and Ulster County Athletic League from the season just completed come to grips tonight at the municipal auditorium in the first game of a doubleheader in the Kingston Basketball Tournament.

In the second half of the twin bill, Poughkeepsie Trabassos goes against Savoia Rest of Hudson. This evening's action marks the end of first round play and sets the stage for the quarter-finals starting next Tuesday.

Kingston High School's varsity is pitted against Saugerties High in the test of DUSO-UCAL powers. The Maroon cagers will play under the Kingston Stars banner, while the Sawyer cagers will carry the colors of Vozdiks Sport Shop.

THE BATTLE should be an interesting one since both teams have been eager to clash all season. It also gives local cage followers another chance to compare the quality of play of each league.

The Kingston team is made of the regular starting varsity including some of the reserves. Expected to see action are Richie Strong, Al Long, Tony Grimaldi, Bob Smith and Tom Flemming. Also on the roster are Larry Johnson and Strong's younger brother, Bob.

VOZDIKS BOASTS Sawyer stalwarts Joe Martin, Bill Hanna, John Kerin, Bert Ledwith, Wayne Pleugh and Bob Hansen. These boys were responsible in leading Saugerties to a second place finish in the UCAL and an impressive 19-3 record.

The teams have a bevy of all-star talent. The entire Kingston starting five gained DUSO recognition recently while Martin, Hansen, Kerin, Hanna and Ledwith were named just yesterday for spots on the UCAL squad.

THE SECOND game brings together an experienced club and a youthful aggregation. Trabassos is a polished outfit and a veteran of tourney play. It scored an impressive 107-77 success against Otisville in its debut.

Six Bridge City performers notched double figures at the expense of the Mountain Villagers in the balanced attack. Charley Boggs (22), Charley Pellegrino (20), Buddy Herrmann (18) and Dick Oakley (17) piled up most of the points and they're expected to try for a little more of the same tonight. Other Trabasso standouts are Maurice Fumasoli and Bob Masten.

Savoia's top performer is Gunner Vilinikis, who scored more than 1,000 points for Hudson High. Another steady player is Bob Hallenbeck.

Tonight's winners clash April second in a quarter-final round match.

NL Hot in Citrus Circuit

Cards, Pirates Show Best Play in Exhibiton Loop

(By The Associated Press)

There may, or may not, be something in Frank Lane's recent observation that "the National League is a stronger league than the American.

The senior circuit has captured the last two world series—by the Dodgers last year and the Giants in 1954—and five of the last six All-star games.

AND THE National League has the statistics going for them in the Grapefruit-Cactus competition this spring. In 53 interleague exhibition games, NL teams are out in front 28-24 with one tie.

Lane, who took over as St. Louis Cards' general manager this year after a similar tenure with the Chicago White Sox, said, "If the Cards were in the the American League they'd finish ahead of the White Sox." Considering that St. Louis wound up in seventh place and the White Sox in third a year ago, that's quite a statement.

And Mr. Lane's Redbirds are carrying the National League banner in fine style in the exhibition games. They've beaten American League clubs five times and lost only twice.

BUT IT'S been the Pittsburgh Pirates, who've done best against American League opponents. They're 5-1. The Dodgers are 5-3, the Chicago Cubs 5-4, the Giants 4-4, Cincinnati 2-4, Philadelphia 1-3 and Milwaukee 1-3 with a tie.

The Boston Red Sox have put together the best American League mark in the inter-league games, they've won four, lost one with one deadlock. The other records are: New York Yankees 4-2, the White Sox 3-2, Cleveland 5-4, Washington 2-3, Kansas City 2-4, Baltimore 3-6 and Detroit 1-6.

The Red Sox, however, may have lost their No. 1 slugger, Ted Williams, for the remainder of the exhibition season .

The Boston Post reported last night that Ted pulled a leg muscle in a workout and has been advised by team trainer Jack Fadden that at Williams' age, 37, the injury won't heal as quickly as in his younger days.

THE NATIONAL won both inter-league skirmishes yesterday. The champion Dodgers edged the Detroit Tigers 3-2 on Randy Jackson's 10th inning single and Pittsburgh downed Washington 6-3 behind the effective pitching of Vernon Law and Ronnie Kline.

In games involving National League clubs, Cincinnati parlatyed four singles and 11 bases on balls into a 5-3 victory over the Phillies. The Cards pounded Chet Nichols and Dave Jolly for 15 hits in handing Milwaukee its fourth straight setback 9-2. And the Giants broke loose for 14 hits, including homers by Hank Thompson, pitcher Johnny Antonelli and George Wilson, to nip the Cubs 11-10.

In American League exhibition games, Larry Doby connected for a 400-foot homer as the White Sox blanked the Red Sox 5-0. Bobby Avila, playing his second game of the spring, drove in four runs with two triples and a single to lead Cleveland to an 11-4 victory over Baltimore. And Mickey Mantle continued his prolific hitting with a homer and a triple as the Yankees tripped Kansas City 9-5.

READY, BUT—Gerry Lynch, Pittsburgh catcher, watches his mates work at Fort Myers. Gerry has been sidelined from the outset with ripped muscles, suffered when he picked up a suitcase on way to camp.

Doyle Hits 30 Points In Over 30

For the second consecutive week, Jack Doyle emerged as high scorer in the Over 30 league and last night he really went to town, pouring in 30 points as the Jaycees thumped the Kingston Patrolmen's Association, 49-33.

Three of his teammates scored only 17 points among them so Doyle carried the heaviest part of the scoring burden, hitting for nine field goals and 12 from the free-throw stripe. Mort Gazlay was runnerup with seven points for the Jaycees.

Bill Slover was the only Patrolman to hit for double figures. He canned 14 points while Lou Sapp contributed eight to a losing cause.

The Jaycees opened the breach wide in the first quarter with a seven-point spread, increased to 17 at the intermission and were headed only in the third period.

Lincoln Park Inn officially clinched its second consecutive championship in the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League this week, winning their first game in a deadlocked 5-5 match against Delaware Avenue Tavern.

Bill Bartholmess and Art Hotaling was the tandem which clinched the title in the first game as the second place battle continued. Ruby Inn solidified its second-place spot defeating Hilltop Rest, 7-3, and moving up six games on the Hilltoppers with 10 contests remaining.

Bob Miggins topped Ruby with 28 while Gil Kelder fired a 26 for the visitors. The tandem of Cliff Nichols-Bill Miggins and Walt Sutton-Don Herdman were double winners for Ruby.

Boiceville Inn thumped Village Rest, 8-2 as Boiceville now trails Delaware Avenue Tavern by four games. Bob DuBois topped Boiceville with 28 and teamed with John Christiana to grab a brace of wins.

George Relyea was high for Village Rest with 33 and teamed for two more with Jack Buckowski.

The season ends Sunday with Lincoln Park host to Boiceville. Other pairings are Hilltoppers-Delaware Avenue and Ruby-Village Rest.

Not Sharp After Layoffs

Flyers, Louisville Favored For NIT Final on Saturday

New York, March 22 (AP)—The two weeks interval between the end of the regular basketball season and the start of the National Invitation tournament virtually makes a new season out of the oldest post-season court extravaganza. And tonight's semi-final games could mean another fresh start for the four teams involved.

It's Louisville against St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Dayton against St. Francis of Brooklyn—three seeded teams and one outsider—in the semi-final games in Madison Square Garden. Only one of the four, St. Joseph's, played a game in two weeks before the tournament opened last Saturday.

THE LONG layoffs were reflected in the shabby performances of the top-rated teams, Dayton and Louisville. On their regular season form, when each won 23 games and lost three, these two should meet in the nationally televised final Saturday afternoon. Off their tournament performances so far, it could be third-seeded St. Joseph's (21-5) against unranked St. Francis (21-2) in the final.

Dayton Coach Tommy Blackburn, disturbed by his team's showing in a fluky 72-68 victory over Xavier (Ohio), sent the Flyers through a stiff workout yesterday and mulled over possible lineup changes.

ST. FRANCIS Coach Danny Lynch also had cause for some concern. Dan Mannix, captain and sparkplug of the Brooklyn Terriers hurt an ankle in the closing seconds of the 74-72 overtime victory over Niagara. If he's below top form, St. Francis will find it harder than ever to overcome Dayton's tremendous height advantage.

St. Joseph's can match Louisville's starting five in height and speed but lacks the reserve strength of the Cardinals.

Pick Dons For Second NCAA Flag

Evanston, Ill., March 22 (AP)—San Francisco's seemingly invincible Dons are one of the most overwhelming choices in NCAA basketball tournament history tonight as they open play for their second national championship.

They take the all-time longest major winning streak of 53 games into action against Southern Methodist in the second game. Temple (26-3) faces Big Ten champion Iowa (19-5) in the opener of the four-team showdown at 8:30 p. m. EST. Iowa has won its last 16.

THERE WILL be no National broadcast or television.

The winners meet tomorrow night for the title following the third place playoff between losers.

SMU, unbeaten in the Southwest Conference, has won its last 19 starts and has a season record of 25-2. Led by 6-8 junior center Jim Krebs, the Mustangs have the best free throw percentage in the country, .766, and rank 9th in field goal accuracy with .430.

SAN FRANCISCO, headed by two-time All-America center Bill Russell, has topped the nation the last two years on defense and hasn't been beaten since December, 1954.

Temple coach Harry Litwach said his fine outside shooter, 6-2 Hal Reinfeld, is handicapped with a pulled leg muscle and may see only limited service.

Honeybear Rally

Akins Decisions Hector Constance

St. Louis, March 22 (AP)—Virgil (Honeybear) Atkins needed a last-round flurry for a close but unanimous decision over smart Hector Constance of Trinidad here last night in a 10-rounder.

It wasn't a sensational victory and the crowd booed the decision although Akins is a St. Louis boy. But it kept him in the running for a bout with welterweight champ Johnny Saxton, who is looking around for opponents before he gives Carmen Basilio a return crack at the title.

Virgil had to win the last round to take the fight. Judge Fred Connell and Howard Hess and Referee Benny Kessler all scored it 51-49, Akins.

Barr Cops Ring Win

Ken Barr, a local boxer, decisioned Dan Bailey of Albany, in the Adirondack AAU Open Class Golden Gloves semi-finals championships at Albany Tuesday night.

Barr, displaying good defensive skill and the ability to pick his shots, had Bailey groggy in the second and third rounds. At the end of the bout, Barr was bleeding from the nose as he was announced the winner.

All bouts were three-rounders, with each round consisting of two minutes of action. Barr fought in the 147-pound class.

Basilio, Saxton To Meet in June

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Carmen Basilio, who lost the welterweight championship to Johnny Saxton last week, says plans are underway for a return bout June 13 at Chicago.

The Chittenango boxer disclosed the tentative date in a dinner talk to a B'nai B'rith lodge last night. He received a citation at the affair.

"Saxton won't get a chance to decision me next time because I'm going to knock him out," Basilio declared.

Three Teen-agers Capture Wins in NY Golden Gloves

New York, March 22 (AP)—Juan Pomae, Al Pell and Joe Shaw, a trio of poised teenagers, today shaped up as strong contenders for Uncle Sam's Olympic boxing team.

The three talented youngsters impressed expert observers last night in winning titles in the inter-city Golden Gloves championships in Madison Square Garden.

Pell, an icy-nerved 18-year-old New York shoeshine boy who normally fights at 112 pounds, moved up to the 118-pound bantamweight class to frustrate Vince Doneiro, 18, Toledo, Ohio, with his southpaw style and pesky lefts to the head.

Shaw, 17-year-old St. Louis hotel bus boy, edged Pittsburgh's Tommy Schafer in a close lightweight contest. The verdict drew boos from many of the 8,261 fans.

"They look like real good prospects," said Pete Mello about the trio. Mello was co-coach of the U. S. team which won an unprecedented five titles at Helsinki in 1952.

The westerners were handicapped by the absence of three champions, all army men. The army wouldn't permit featherweight Leroy Jeffrey, middleweight Ed Crook, and light heavyweight Jim Boyd to box without headguards. They were allowed to don them in the Chicago eliminations.

Needles 2-1 Pick In Florida Derby

Miami, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Needles, Florida-bred winner of the Flamingo Stakes, is a 2 to 1 favorite to capture the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park Saturday but if past events are any indication his handlers have four colts to fear.

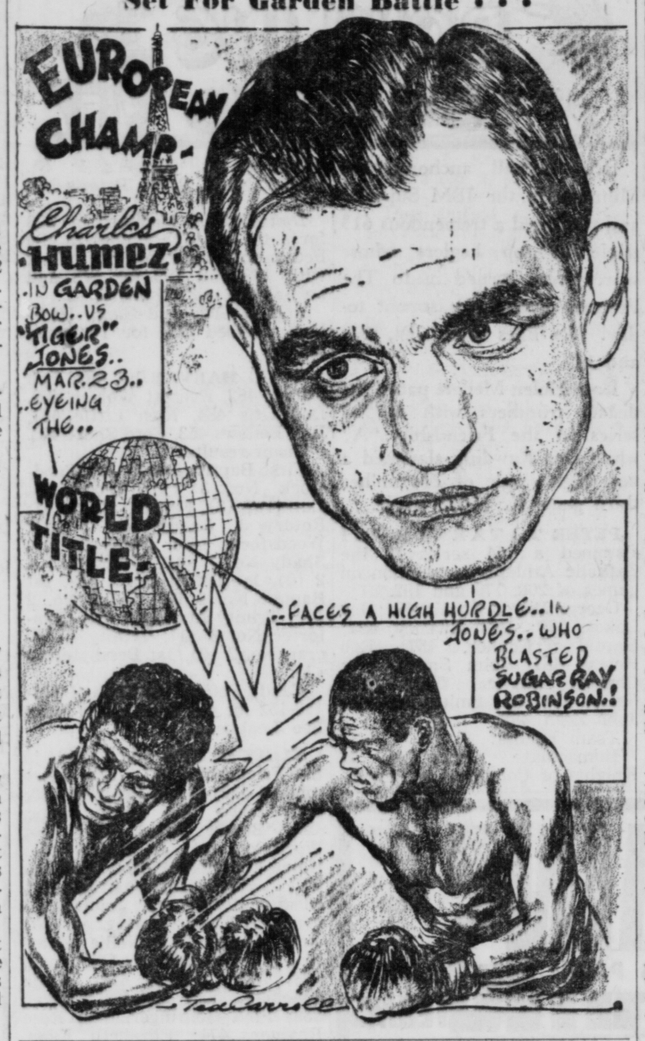
A dozen and perhaps 14 may start in the $100,000 mile and an eighth feature and any of those swift 3-year-olds could win it, but Needles' backers probably will be watching Terrang, Like Magic, Count Chic and Reaping Right closest of all.

Rex C. Ellsworth won the Santa Anita Derby with Terrang and will send Like Magic, a full brother to Swaps, out in the Florida Derby as an entry with his top colt.

Dino Lozzi's Count Chic also was impressive in California and T. A. Grissom's Reaping Right triumphed in the Louisiana Derby.

The Derby will be broadcast and televised nationally by CBS.

Set For Garden Battle . . .



Leads Swimmers

Hamilton, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The new captain of the Colgate University swimming team is Edward Curtis of Old Greenwich, Conn. He replaces William Myers of Norristown, Pa., a sophomore, who was elected at the close of the season. Myers resigned last week, saying it was traditional for a senior to be captain if possible. Curtis will be a senior next year.

Heizman Fires 673

Rochester, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The only change in American Bowling Congress standings recorded yesterday came when Otto Heizman of Syracuse rolled a 673 to take over seventh place in the singles division. He scored games of 216, 220 and 237.

Miami, Fla.—(NEA)—A prominent American League magnate is begging trouble because of his faculty for getting into trouble during off-hour revels on the Citrus Circuit . . . or how long can underlings keep him under cover? . . .

The Veeck influence: the Dodgers found the once solid green walls of Miami Stadium a multi-color blaze to match the hues of Sportshirt Bill, covered with billboards. . . .

Since Rocky Graziano made juvenile delinquency popular (with his "Somebody Up There Likes Me"), the fad has spread . . . now Jackie Jensen, the Bosox muscle bulger, tells how sports saved him from boyhood iniquity in the (what else?) Jackie Jensen Story, a TV production that breaks with the opening of the baseball season. . . .

Here's one way to acquire a race track: Jimmy Donn, the bur-r-ry Scot who owns Gulfstream Park, was simply the florist who beautified the place, but found his bills unpaid . . . so in lieu of money, he took over the park. . . .

Think Wes Santee was alone? . . . A Honolulu promoter tells us how he presented a $500 bonus to one of our most famous track champs (still active) . . . the boy was cagy, though—he wouldn't take it in the house of the promoter, only in the front yard, insisted that it be cash and in an unmarked envelope. . . .

The horse trainers' grapevine whispers that Gulfstream paid the shipping costs to get the Ellsworth-Tenney stable of Swaps and Co. from California to the current meet. . . .

Our in-the-know agent insists Bobo Olson won't be Sugar Ray Robinson's next challenger, despite the contracts . . . that His Sugarship will duck off and take on Bobby Boyd, Milo Savage—or Johnny Saxton . . . with a 10 per cent cut of future purses to protect against possible loss of the middleweight title. . . .

Carmen Basilio, tough even when losing, comes by it naturally . . . his 70-year-old father recently flattened a farm hand who tried to jump him in the onion fields at Canastota, N. Y. . . .

Al Weill, suddenly worried about retrieving some acclaim for that fighter he's got who holds a title—what's his name, Marciano?—put a proposition to Abe Saperstein . . . wanted the Globetrotter wizard to draw up a full-scale public relations campaign to get the champ out from behind the cauliflower curtain . . . and was turned down cold. . . .

Jimmy Foxx, piloting baseball at the University of Miami at Coral Gables, has another diamond job to tide him through the summer, too . . . as a coach with the International League Marlins. . . .

Incidenta: Dodger outfield aspirant Gino Cimolo was a junior college basketball star who could have dunked them at any major school. . . . Jack Nichols, the left hand Boston Celtic sharpshooter, is a right hand dental student . . . and saves money on dental equipment that way. . . . Mike Agostini, the Fresno State sprinter who broke the 220 world mark, learned the fine points of running by reading track books in his native Trinidad. . . .

Between you'n'me, baseball's biggest trouble is that the Yanks and Dodgers have taken the uncertainty out of it. . . .

Dunkel Beats Millbrook Golfer in Seniors Play

St. Augustine, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Judd Brumley, the 1954 winner and a finalist in 1955, met Paul Dunkel in the top quarter-final match today of the American Seniors Golf Assn. tournament.

Dunkel, from Ridgewood, N. J., yesterday beat Alex Kennedy of Millbrook, N. Y., 3 and 2.

Hart's Foul Shots Win

RamblersDefeatRapps, 71-69 in YMCA Action

An expendable clock helped the Ramblers to gain a 71-69 victory over Rapps in the YMCA "B" league last night as Vince Hart converted two foul shots after the buzzer counded.

Hart was fouled just as the game ended. He stepped to the line and dunked the two free throws to break the tie and win the ball game. The Ramblers missed 14 free throws in the contest but Hart's deuce from the charity line were the two that counted.

The Ramblers staged a strong comeback in the third period after Rapps jumped off to a seven-point lead and increased it to 16 at halftime. However, the Ramblers were resilient in the third period thanks to double-figure scoring by Charlie Marable, Hart and Al Short.

Marable bucketed 26 points to pace the Ramblers attack while Short canned 15 and Hart dumped in 12. Butch Tomaseski was the scoring ace for Rapps, hitting for 11 fields and three foul throws for 25 points.

Phil McCloskey collected 12 as Frank Tiano and Ron Ashdown had 11 and 10, respectively. Rapps missed 13 free throws.

The Gray Line

Miami (AP)—Nail was the only gray horse to start in the rich Flamingo at Hialeah. Gray thoroughbreds nearly became extinct in the middle 1880's. But a French stallion, LeSancy, perpetuated the line and now all grays trace through him.

Bob Birchall anchored the Minnows in the IBM Superior and produced a tremendous 613 triple to top keglers whose scores were turned in to The Freeman sports department today. His lines were 224, 192 and 197.

Rose Helen Mellert paced the distaff trundlers with a 582 series in the Friendship "A" while Dot Rawding slammed a new high single of 244 in her third game for a 573 triple.

PETER TATARZEWSKI slammed a 564 series in the Catholic Athletic Association on games of 202, 170 and 192.

George Bifyou fired a 484; Joe Lukas, 533; John Sweney, 494; Harold O'Connor, 457; Bob Henry, 481; John Smith, 493; Charles Hertica, 530; John Fautz, 481; Art Smith, Jr., 482; John Zeeh, 478.

Candy Petizzo hit lines of 133-119-152 for 404 in the IBM Busy Bee League.

ELSIE DYKES rolled a 504 in the Friendship "A". Nats, Hawks Ignore Home Jinx as Road Games Loom

(By The Associated Press)

The Syracuse Nationals and St. Louis Hawks, having defied the home court advantage, were hoping for continued success on the road today in their drive for the championship of the National Basketball Assn.

Both clubs won the third and deciding games of their quarter-final playoffs last night. The defending champion Nats defeated the Boston Celtics in Boston 102-97 and the Hawks beat the Minneapolis Lakers in Minneapolis 116-115 on Al Ferrari's two free throws in the final minute.

The semi-final round gets under way tonight with St. Louis meeting the Fort Wayne Pistons, the Western Division titleholders, in Fort Wayne. Syracuse starts its semi-final series against the Philadelphia Warriors in Philly tomorrow (Friday) night. Both series are best-of-five affairs.

Dolph Schaye's 27 points was the big contribution in the Syracuse victory.

Action Is Begun For Damages in '54 Auto Mishap

William T. Lawrence, Highland heating and Plumbing engineer, and his wife bring an action in Supreme Court to recover damages from Lewis Charles Shave of Brockton, Mass., for injuries which they received in an automobile collision at Milton on Oct. 9, 1954.

Lawrence at the time had completed a heating system at Marlborough and had stopped at the Hepworth fruit stand to pick up his wife who worked at the stand. When at the junction of old Route 9W and the new route, he turned to go south to give a final inspection to the Marlborough job. While turning to go south his car was struck and both he and his wife severely injured. Shave was driving south on Route 9W, a four-lane road.

Michael Nardon appears for plaintiffs and Cribari, Scapolito and Solinger with Charles Gaffney of counsel appear for defendant.

Lawrence suffered a severe head injury, laceration of the brain and broken neck while his wife was severely injured and spent some time at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Shave brings a counter claim contending the Lawrence car was responsible for the accident, in that it entered the main road without proper precautions. Shave and his wife and children were also injured.

An assault action brought by Eugenia Simpson against Ciro Sinagara was announced settled. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and David W. Corwin for defendant.

Wednesday afternoon an action for personal injuries and property damage brought by Marvin A. Lewis and another against Benno Wagner, was also settled after a conference with Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, presiding justice. Conrad and Smith for plaintiffs and Stanley B. Johnson for defendant.

ERNIE BORGNINE

ANNA MAGNANI

'Marty' Voted Four Academy . . .

they announced last year that they intended to make a movie about a homely butcher and a wallflower school teacher—with no big star names in the cast.

At the time Lancaster said, "we're making it because it's something we want to make."

He added that even if the picture didn't earn a cent it would be profitable as a tax loss against big grosses of "Vera Cruz" and "Apache," putting the producers in a lower tax bracket.

But "Marty" turned out to be a sleeper that won the Cannes film festival and New York film critics awards before getting last night's Oscar.

As for financial returns on the expected tax loss, Lancaster disclosed:

"So far the picture has grossed two million dollars and hasn't been put in general release yet."

Hecht-Lancaster tossed a $10,000 party at the Beverly Hills Hotel after the awards.

Lancaster said the party had been planned—not because he and his partner were confident but to celebrate "Marty"—"win, lose or draw."

"Of course," he added, "it could easily have been a $10,000 wake had we lost."

A happy Borgnine said after receiving his Oscar:

"I felt wonderful, naturally, but I hadn't let my hopes get too high. I figured I didn't start out with anything in this town, so if I lost I still was way ahead of the game."

Four members of Borgnine's family watched the ceremonies on television at New Haven, Conn., and let out a loud howl when his victory was announced.

"We are just very proud and happy for Ernie," his sister, Mrs. Eugene Velardi, told a reporter.

Others present were the actor's father, who works in a New Haven factory; his aunt, Louise Borgnine, and Mrs. Velardi's husband.

Borgnine's mother died in 1947. His maternal grandfather was Count Paolo Boselli, one-time financial adviser to King Emanuel of Italy.

Miss Van Fleet said she was "numb" when her name was called.

"I never thought I had a chance in the world of winning," she added.

Lemmon, after all the commotion of picture taking was over, said as his first words to reporters:

"Where am I?"

He said he lost $40 betting against himself. His choice: Arthur O'Connell of "Picnic."

"Don't get me wrong," Lemmon added. "It's a pleasure to lose the money."

"Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing" was named the best song of the year.

Cameraman James Wong Howe, nominated for an Oscar for the 10th time, finally won one. It was for his photography of "The Rose Tattoo."

The star-studded ceremonies at Hollywood's Pantages Theatre were brilliantly emceed by comedian Jerry Lewis. Two stars —Maurice Chevalier and Grace Kelly—stole some of the spotlight from the winners.

The straw-hatted, 68-year-old Frenchman—proved he still has plenty of charm. It was Miss Kelly's last Hollywood appearance before she leaves for Monaco and marriage to Prince Rainier III.

The program was nationally telecast by NBC. There were frequent shifts to the NBC Century Theatre in New York, where some winners received their Oscars. Actress Claudette Colbert — a 1934 Oscar winner for "It Happened One Night"—and director Joseph L. Mankiewicz presided over the New York ceremonies.

Some disappointment was voiced by stars because no special award was given the late James Dean. An academy official said it was decided to let Dean's performance stand on its merits with the other nominees for top acting.

Tax Obligation

Topeka, Kan. (AP)—Roy Parrish takes his tax obligations seriously—so seriously that he's getting a whole year's living at taxpayer's expense. The 27-year-old dishwasher was sentenced to a term for wounding a hotel clerk with a butcher knife in a holdup attempt. Parrish said he needed the money to pay his federal income tax.

TOTABLE TUB — You can now take your bathtub with you—if you have a new lightweight tube like the one Cynthia Cooper is holding. Made of a new plastic substance, the four-foot tub weighs only nine pounds. It was shown recently at the second annual Caravan Convention and Exhibition at Brighton, England.

HUSBAND ASKS CUSTODY OF CHILD — Actress Jayne Mansfield applies the powder puff as daughter Jayne Marie uses the comb in the star's New York apartment. Miss Mansfield's estranged husband, Paul J. Mansfield, asked for custody of the child and charged that Miss Mansfield "is not a fit and proper person to have custody of their five-year-old daughter. (NEA Telephoto).

NEEDED: CHECKS AND CHECKUPS — This is the official poster for the 1956 fund campaign of the American Cancer Society. The April cancer drive emphasizes two vital weapons in the fight against the killer disease: First, the importance of a physical checkup to catch cancer in its curable stage and, second, the need for more money for treatment and research. Some 400,000 persons are alive today because cancer treatments began soon enough. Eighty thousand more might have been saved last year had they been treated earlier. That's more persons than live in many large cities, like Charleston, S.C., or Portland, Me. The goal for 1956 is 26 million dollars. You can help it reach that goal.

Check Underway Of GE Explosion

Schenectady, March 22 (AP)—An official investigation was set for today into the cause of an explosion at a General Electric Co. building early yesterday.

The huge blast and roaring fire claimed two lives, injured 12 men and caused damages estimated at 7½-million-dollars.

The chemical materials building where the initial blast and several smaller explosions occurred was destroyed. Four other buildings were damaged.

OFFICIALS SAID they have not been able to determine just where the first explosion occurred in the four-story building. Employes said they were too stunned to locate the point of origin.

Killed in the explosion were Walter Keib, 61, of Saratoga Springs, a chemical worker, and Louis Savacchio, 49, of Broadalbin, a watchman.

Donald Cree, 34, of Schenectady, was reported in "satisfactory" condition today at Ellis Hospital. Cree, a foreman, suffered a broken collarbone and severe cuts and bruises about the entire body.

FIFTEEN OTHER workers were in the building, which has a daytime work force of 290. Eleven of the workers were treated for minor injuries and sent home. Four were not hurt.

Nearly 400 workers, those employed in the damaged buildings, were told not to report for work yesterday. A company spokesman said normal working operations for the employes would be curtailed for a few days.

Aries Commander Dies in London

A communication from London, England, has announced the death of Lt. Cmdr. Cecil Harcourt-Smith, 56, who with a crew of three sailed the Aries, a 61-foot lifeboat, to this city from across the Atlantic Ocean.

The mission was to extend greetings from Kingston, England, to this city. While Cmdr. Smith and his men were here they praised the hospitality of local residents.

The Britishers made sailing history, crossing the ocean in 33 days en route here. They made the return trip in 23 days.

Outcome in Doubt On Proposal to Revise Elections

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Senators on both sides predicted today a close vote on a proposal to revise the method of electing presidents and vice presidents. They agreed the outcome now is in doubt.

They spoke out as the Senate moved into a third day of debate (12 noon E.S.T.) on a proposed constitutional amendment to provide for splitting a state's electoral vote among the candidates. Each state now votes as a unit. The test is not due before next Tuesday.

SEN. MUNDT (R.-S.D.), one of the authors of the proposed amendment, said it was "touch-and-go" whether the necessary two-thirds majority of those voting would be obtained in the Senate.

He told newsmen, however, that in addition to the 54 senators listed as sponsors of the measure another five or six have said they intend to vote for it. Sixty-four favorable votes would be required if all senators voted.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R.-N.J.) said in a separate interview that some of the sponsors—both Democrats and Republicans—are becoming "at least doubtful" about the merits of the proposal.

CASE SAID he thought opponents would gain strength as senators became more fully aware of all the implications of the proposal. He called the outcome "extremely doubtful."

The proposal would give each states a choice between two methods of casting its electoral votes for president and vice president.

Under one method, each state's electoral vote would be divided among the candidates in proportion to the popular vote they received.

The alternative would be for a state to choose its electors as it selects its senators and representatives in Congres—two on a statewide basis and the others by congressional districts.

SEARCH FOR WEAPONS — Scenes like this are of daily occurrence throughout the island of Cyprus, where British soldiers are trying to curb widespread terrorism. These Cypriots are being searched for weapons in Nicosia, the capital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 22 (AP)—The stock market rallied today and managed a modest advance in the early afternoon.

The trend was somewhat lower at the start, and then buyers focused their attention on the steels and radio-televisions.

That started a general buying move throughout the list, and prices edged ahead.

Hogan Declares

Detroit, powerful vice president of the IBT, in a move to get control of New York truck drivers.

HOGAN SAID on March 9 that O'Rourke and his running mates were backed by John Dioguardi, alias Johnny Dio, a convicted extortionist, and by Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo, who Hogan said was "fast emerging as one of the most powerful underworld figures in the field of labor."

O'Rourke denied knowing Corallo. He acknowledged long acquaintance with Dioguardi. O'Rourke declared, however, that he was controlled "by no one."

O'Rourke, president of IBT Local 282, formerly was president of the New York joint council but resigned in 1951, giving ill health as the reason.

Would Name UN Head to Keep Holy Land Peace

United Nations, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The United States is asking the UN Security Council to assign Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to a peace mission aimed at keeping Israel and her Arab neighbors from each others' throats.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. put in a resolution last night calling on Hammarskjold to confer urgently with both sides and secure adoption of measures to reduce tensions along the Holy Land armistice lines.

THE RESOLUTION specifically proposed:

(1) A general pullback of forces from the frontiers;

(2) Full freedom of movement for UN observers in border areas, and

(3) Local arrangements between Israeli and Arab commanders to prevent incidents and detect armistice violations.

Hammarskjold was asked to report back to the council within a month after adoption of the resolution.

IF THE 11-nation council approves the resolution, Hammarskjold is expected to return to the Middle East capitals he visited on a world tour earlier this year and confer with government leaders on the inflamed border situation.

Lodge entered the resolution only a day after he had called for an urgent council meeting on the Israeli-Arab crisis. The council is expected to met early next week.

Social Security

testimony prepared for the Senate Finance Committee.

"For all practical purposes, the system is in approximate acturarial balance. It will thus be self-supporting, under present estimates, providing taxes are increased as scheduled and benefits are not increased without a corresponding increase in revenue."

FOLSOM URGED extension of OASI coverage to make it as "nearly universal as practicable." He endorsed provisions in the House bill and in other pending legislation which would extend the coverage to self-employed attorneys, dentists, osteopaths, optometrists, veterinarians, the military services, federal employes and various other groups.

Today's statement by Folsom was the first direct stand by the Eisenhower administration on the proposals. Folsom's predecessor, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, had raised a number of questions about the key provisions, however.

Republican senators had expected administration opposition. At the same time they have commented privately that it has wide appeal in an election year.

More WE Workers Return to Jobs

Pittsburgh, March 22 (AP)—Increasing numbers of workers returned to their jobs at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants today as the firm stepped up production schedules to recover losses during a 156-day strike.

And on the second strike front, company negotiators resumed talks with officials of the Independent United Electrical Workers (UE) in hopes of quickly resolving a dispute that still idles 10,500 employes at 10 plants. James J. Matles, director of organization for the UE. said "progress toward peace could be speedy."

MATLES SAID the issues still confronting his union are wages, length of contract and the status of workers at the South Philadelphia turbine plant where Westinghouse has served notice it intends to change the wage payment plan.

Matles said the proposed changes at South Philadelphia would mean an average wage reduction of 50 cents an hour or about 20 per cent. Six thousand workers are on strike at the plant, which has been shut down since last October.

The UE official said the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers contract agreement with the company Tuesday night has little affect on the strike of the UE's 10,500 members. He said the UE "is not interested" in discussing with the company any contract changes relative to time study issues such as the IUE agreed to Tuesday night.

West Albany Rail Yards Sold Today

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad today sold its West Albany yards to a corporation that said it planned to develop them for warehouse and factory space.

Tax stamps on the deed indicated the price paid by West Albany Warehouses Inc. was $500,000.

Workshops in the yards employed several thousand workers, before Diesel locomotives replaced the steam engines.

Hercules Stock Split Approved, 3 for 1 Common

Stockholders of Hercules Powder Company, at their annual meeting in Wilmington, Del., Tuesday, approved a three for one split of the company's common stock. Also approved were an employe savings plan, and a stock option plan. Eighty-eight per cent of the outstanding voting common shares of the company were represented at the meeting in person or by proxy. This is the largest representation of stock at any annual meeting in the company's history.

Along with the stock split, the shareholders approved a change from no par value to 2 1/12 dollars par value a share. The New York Trust Company, transfer agent, will mail on April 30, 1956, to each holder of Hercules common stock a certificate or certificates representing two additional shares for each share held at the close of business April 3.

Court Won't Interfere

Washington, March 22 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals refused today to interfere with the firing of General Electric Co. employes who invoked the Fifth Amendment before congressional committees investigating communism. In ruling against the United Electrical workers (UE), the court avoided passing on whether claiming the Fifth Amendment privilege against possible self-incrimination is "obvious cause" for a private company to fire a worker. U. S. District Judge Charles F. McLaughlin held on January 30, 1954 that General Electric, under its contract with the union, reserved the right to fire for "obvious cause." He ruled that claiming the privilege against self-incrimination was "obvious cause."

Says Doctor Lied

New York, March 22 (AP)—An heiress to a washing machine fortune is suing a woman psychiatrist for 1½ million dollars, contending the doctor lied to a relative about her mental condition and precipitated a long court battle before she got her inheritance. Mrs. Elizabeth Maytag Revyuk charged in State Supreme Court yesterday that Dr. Flanders Dunbar, with offices on 5th avenue, falsified her mental condition in a "corrupt bargain" with her brother, Frederick L. Maytag, president of the washing machine firm. At Newton, Iowa, last night, Maytag declined comment on the suit.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Church Notes

New Paltz, March 22—An outstanding religious film classic "The King of Kings" will be shown on Palm Sunday, March 25, at 7:30 p. m. in the sanctuary of New Paltz Methodist Church. This is the last in this year's series of Sunday evening Lenten film services and both pastor and congregation issue a cordial invitation to friends of the larger New Paltz community to share with them in the viewing of this stimulating and inspiring film on the life of Christ, announced the Rev. Willett R. Porter, Jr.

Services on Palm Sunday will be held at the regularly scheduled times in the New Paltz, Lloyd and Plutarch Churches, namely, at 11, 9 and 2 respectively. The Rev. Willett Porter will deliver the Palm Sunday sermon in Lloyd and New Paltz, while in Plutarch the message will be given by local preacher, Roger Brown, assistant pastor. Local preacher, Carl Mills will conduct the Lloyd service of worship. Organists are Mrs. E. C. Trautwein, George Meyer and George Litts. Choir directors are Robert Brearey and Mrs. George Traver. Palm crosses will be distributed at each of the services.

An informal period of prayer and meditation will be observed on Good Friday from 12 noon until 3 p. m. in the sanctuary of New Paltz Methodist Church. Recordings by the Whitehall Choir of John Stainer's, "Crucifixion" will provide background music for this period of devotion. Members of the community are invited to come when they can and leave when they must.

Tickets are now available for the annual spring dinner sponsored by New Paltz Methodist Church and held in the social hall of the church April 12. Roast beef is the dish. Tickets are available from any member of the church or at convenient locations in town such as Margie's Dress Shop, or Doug's Auto Service or DUSO Auto Sales.

At the suggestion of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, and with the urging of the local scoutmaster of New Paltz Troop 74, the Official Board of the New Paltz Methodist Church voted to sponsor a second Boy Scout Troop in New Paltz. Leslie Johnston of Lincoln place will be the scoutmaster after more complete plans are made for the actual chartering of the troop. Any men interested in serving in any way in connection with this new troop are invited to contact the Rev. Willett Porter for further information.

Traditionally on Palm Sunday the Sacrament of Baptism is administered in the churches of New Paltz Methodist Parish. This will take place in Lloyd, New Paltz, and Plutarch. The Rev. Willett Porter will officiate.

The Methodist Church will hold an Easter sunrise service again this year on the Minnewaska Trail. Easter Sunday, April 1 the service will be at 7 a. m. All are welcome to attend. Cars will leave the New Paltz Church at 6:40 a. m.

Members of Plutarch Methodist Church will be visiting in the community on Tuesday evening, March 27. This will be in charge of Roger Brown, assistant minister. Work bees have been continuing most successfully on Saturday mornings with the laying of the carpeting, about to be accomplished.

Adlai Won't Quit

Chicago, March 22 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says that maybe he should have shaken more hands in Minnesota. He conceded at a packed news conference yesterday that Tuesday's Minnesota primary knocked him aside as front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he said he will keep on running—"harder than ever"—in other state primaries and that he will go to the Democratic convention in August seeking the No. 1 spot on the ticket.

Challenge Censure Move

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Two university presidents have challenged a censure move aimed by a special committe of professors at their handling of loyalty charges against faculty members. A committe of the American Assn. of University Professors (AAUP) recommended last night censure of the administrations of the University of California, Ohio State, Rutgers and Temple Universities, and the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia.

Goldstein Bookie Charge Is Dropped

New York, March 21 (Special)—Bookmaking charges pending against Jack Goldstein, 55, who said he formerly resided in Kingston, were dropped in Gamblers Court here today by Magistrate Joseph A. Martinis.

After a hearing, Magistrate Martinis said there was no reason to believe the defendant guilty of the charge.

Police had arrested him on February 9 in a hallway at 355 Seventh avenue, New York, where, they said, he was seated on a stoool, taking bets from two men, when they discovered him.

Colts Sign Collegian

Baltimore, March 22 (AP)—Bill Danenhauer, all-around lineman from undefeated Emporia College in Kansas, signed a contract today with the Baltimore Colts who picked him 17th in the National Football League draft.

SFC Harry Johnston of U. S. Army Recruiting Service announced that a new enlistment program called "The Buddy Assignment Plan" has been developed to encourage local recruiting.

Under this program two to five friends from the same community or city may enlist in the U. S. Army with the assurance of remaining together during basic training.

In the event that six or more young men desire to take advantage of this plan, they will be divided into groups of 3, 4, or 5, depending upon the number enlisting.

Further information of the buddy plan may be secured at the recruiting station located at the city hall building, 3rd floor. The station is open each Thursday until further notice.
